LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING  I Corinthians 9:16-19, 22-23

Lectura de la primera carta del apóstol san Pablo a los corintios

Hermanos: No tengo por qué presumir de predicar el Evangelio, puesto que ésa es mi obligación. ¡Ay de mí, si no anuncio el Evangelio! Si yo lo hiciera por propia iniciativa, merecería recompensa; pero si no, es que se me ha confiado una misión. Entonces, ¿en qué consiste mi recompensa? Consiste en predicar el Evangelio gratis, renunciando al derecho que tengo a vivir de la predicación.

Aunque no estoy sujeto a nadie, me he convertido en esclavo de todos, para ganarlos a todos. Con los débiles me hice débil, para ganar a los débiles. Me he hecho todo a todos, a fin de ganarlos a todos. Todo lo hago por el Evangelio, para participar yo también de sus bienes.

Lector: The word of the Lord.

All: Thanks be to God.

All: Glory to you, O Lord.

GOSPEL  Mark 16:15-20

Lectura del santo Evangelio según san Marcos

En aquel tiempo, se apareció Jesús a los Once y les dijo: “Vayan por todo el mundo y prediquen el Evangelio a toda criatura. El que crea y se bautice, se salvará; el que se resista a creer, será condenado. Éstos son los milagros que acompañarán a los que hayan creído: arrojarán demonios en mi nombre, hablarán lenguas nuevas, cogerán serpientes en sus manos, y si beben un veneno mortal, no les hará daño; impondrán las manos a los enfermos y éstos quedarán sanos”.

El Señor Jesús, después de hablarles, subió al cielo y está sentado a la derecha de Dios. Ellos fueron y proclamaron el Evangelio por todas partes, y el Señor actuaba con ellos y confirmaba su predicación con los milagros que hacían.

Deacon: The Gospel of the Lord.    All: Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

How Lovely Are the Messengers by Felix Mendelssohn-Batholdy

How lovely are the messengers that preach us the gospel of peace.

Throughout all the lands their glad tidings.

INVITATION TO PRAYER

Archbishop: Pray, brothers and sisters, that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God,
the almighty Father.

The people rise and reply:

May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of his name, for our good and the good of all his holy Church.

THE EUCHARISTIC PRAYER

PREFACE DIALOGUE

Priest: The Lord be with you. And with your spirit.

Assembly: Lift up your hearts. We lift them up to the Lord.

Priest: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God. It is right and just.
PREFACE OF HOLY PASTORS

It is truly right and just, our duty and our salvation, always and everywhere to give you thanks, Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, through Christ our Lord.

For, as on the festival of Saint Francis Xavier you bid your Church rejoice, so, too, you strengthen her by the example of his holy life, teach her by his words of preaching, and keep her safe in answer to his prayers.

And so, with the company of Angels and Saints, we sing the hymn of your praise, as without end we acclaim:

SANCTUS

Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of hosts. Heaven and earth are full of your glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.
The principal celebrant, with hands extended, says:
You are indeed Holy, O Lord, and all you have created rightly gives you praise, for through your Son our Lord Jesus Christ,
by the power and working of the Holy Spirit, you give life to all things and make them holy,
and you never cease to gather a people to yourself, so that from the rising of the sun to its setting a pure sacrifice may be offered to your name.

The principal celebrant and all concelebrants, holding their hands extended toward the offerings, say:
Therefore, O Lord, we humbly implore you:
by the same Spirit graciously make holy these gifts we have brought to you for consecration,

The principal celebrant joins his hands and makes the Sign of the Cross once over the bread and chalice together, saying:
that they may become the Body and Blood of your Son our Lord Jesus Christ,

They join their hands.
at whose command we celebrate these mysteries.

For on the night he was betrayed
he himself took bread, and, giving you thanks, he said the blessing, broke the bread and gave it to his disciples, saying:

Each concelebrant extends his right hand toward the bread, if this seems appropriate.

Take this, all of you, and eat of it,
for this is my Body,
which will be given up for you.

The concelebrants join their hands, look toward the consecrated host as it is shown, and after this bow profoundly.
After this, the principal celebrant and all concelebrants continue:

In a similar way, when supper was ended, he took the chalice, and, giving you thanks, he said the blessing, and gave the chalice to his disciples, saying:

Each concelebrant extends his right hand toward the chalice, if this seems appropriate.

Take this, all of you, and drink from it, for this is the chalice of my Blood, the Blood of the new and eternal covenant, which will be poured out for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Do this in memory of me.

The concelebrants join their hands, look toward the chalice as it is shown, and after this bow profoundly.

Then the principal celebrant says:

The mystery of faith.

And the concelebrants with the people continue, acclaining:

MYSTERY OF FAITH  Choir sings first; all repeat

We proclaim your Death, O Lord, and profess your Resurrection until you come again.
Then the principal celebrant and the concelebrants, with hands extended, say:

Therefore, O Lord, as we celebrate the memorial of the saving Passion of your Son, his wondrous Resurrection and Ascension into heaven, and as we look forward to his second coming,
we offer you in thanksgiving
this holy and living sacrifice.

Look, we pray, upon the oblation of your Church and, recognizing the sacrificial Victim by whose death you willed to reconcile us to yourself, grant that we, who are nourished
by the Body and Blood of your Son and filled with his Holy Spirit, may become one body, one spirit in Christ.

They join their hands.

With hands extended, one of the concelebrants or the principal celebrant says:

May he make of us
an eternal offering to you,
so that we may obtain an inheritance with your elect, especially with the most Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God, with your blessed Apostles and glorious Martyrs with Saint Joseph, Saint Francis Xavier, Saint Theodora Guérin, Saints Peter and Paul,
and with all the Saints,
on whose constant intercession in your presence we rely for unfailing help.

He joins his hands.
With hands extended, another of the concelebrants or the principal celebrant says:
May this Sacrifice of our reconciliation,
we pray, O Lord,
advance the peace and salvation of all the world.
Be pleased to confirm in faith and charity
your pilgrim Church on earth, with your servant Benedict our Pope and Joseph our Bishop, Christopher, his assistant Bishop, and me, your unworthy servant,
the Order of Bishops, all the clergy, and the entire people you have gained for your own.
Listen graciously to the prayers of this family, whom you have summoned before you:
in your compassion, O merciful Father, gather to yourself all your children scattered throughout the world.

He joins his hands.

With hands extended, another of the concelebrants or the principal celebrant says:
To our departed brothers and sisters and to all who were pleasing to you at their passing from this life, give kind admittance to your kingdom.
There we hope to enjoy forever the fullness of your glory

He joins his hands.
through Christ our Lord, through whom you bestow on the world all that is good.
The principal celebrant raises the paten with the host, and the deacon raises the chalice, while the principal celebrant alone or with all the concelebrants, says:

Priests

Through him, and with him, and in him, O God, almighty Father, in the unity of the Holy Spirit,

all glory and honor is yours, for ever and ever.

The people acclaim:

CONCLUDING HYMN
Come and See the Many Wonders

Text written for the 175th Anniversary of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis

1. Come and see the many wonders God has worked through many hands.
2. Come and name the men and women called by Christ and by him sent.

Come and count the many blessings, woven from so many strands.
They proclaimed the Kingdom's coming in his Word and Sacrament.

We have seen the face of Jesus who has dwelt among us here,
Sing of Bishop Bru-té's witness, filled with gentle humble-ness,

Christ the source of all our blessings, blessings of so many years.
And Saint The-o-do-ra's courage, hallmark of her hol-i-ness.

Choir:
Come and tell the many stories, stories filled with faith and prayer.
With great hope the Church has planted; now the harvest we must share.
See the wondrous gifts they left us in each church and school and place
Where the Church in Indiana comes to meet Christ face to face.

All:
Go and live as Christ's disciples. Go and be his face and hands.
And proclaim in every parish that God's love is Christ's command.
Raise a song of glad thanksgiving. Let it ring that all may hear.
For the Father, Son, and Spirit have so blessed us through these years.

GUIDELINES FOR THE RECEPTION OF COMMUNION

FOR CATHOLICS
As Catholics, we fully participate in the celebration of the Eucharist when we receive Holy Communion. We are encouraged to receive Communion devoutly and frequently. In order to be properly disposed to receive Communion, participants should not be conscious of grave sin and normally should have fasted for one hour. A person who is conscious of grave sin is not to receive the Body and Blood of the Lord without prior sacramental confession except for a grave reason where there is no opportunity for confession. In this case, the person is to be mindful of the obligation to make an act of perfect contrition, including the intention of confessing as soon as possible (canon 916). A frequent reception of the Sacrament of Penance is encouraged for all.

Because Catholics believe that the celebration of the Eucharist is a sign of the reality of the oneness of faith, life, and worship, members of those churches with whom we are not yet fully united are ordinarily not admitted to Holy Communion. Eucharistic sharing in exceptional circumstances by other Christians requires permission according to the directives of the diocesan bishop and the provisions of canon law (canon 844 §4). Members of the Orthodox Churches, the Assyrian Church of the East, and the Polish National Catholic Church are urged to respect the discipline of their own Churches. According to Roman Catholic discipline, the Code of Canon Law does not object to the reception of Communion by Christians of these Churches (canon 844 §3).

FOR OUR FELLOW CHRISTIANS
We welcome our fellow Christians to this celebration of the Eucharist as our brothers and sisters. We pray that our common baptism and the action of the Holy Spirit in this Eucharist will draw us closer to one another and begin to dispel the sad divisions which separate us. We pray that these will lessen and finally disappear, in keeping with Christ’s prayer for us "that they may all be one" (Jn 17:21).

FOR THOSE NOT RECEIVING HOLY COMMUNION
All who are not receiving Holy Communion are encouraged to express in their hearts a prayerful desire for unity with the Lord Jesus and with one another.

FOR NON-CHRISTIANS
We also welcome to this celebration those who do not share our faith in Jesus Christ. While we cannot admit them to Holy Communion, we ask them to offer their prayers for the peace and the unity of the human family.
The Most Reverend Joseph W. Tobin

His Excellency, The Most Reverend Joseph W. Tobin, C.Ss.R., was appointed Archbishop of Indianapolis by His Holiness, Pope Benedict XVI, on October 18, 2012.

Archbishop Tobin, who served most recently as the Archbishop Secretary of the Vatican Congregation for Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life, succeeds Archbishop Daniel M. Buechlein, O.S.B., who was granted early retirement by Pope Benedict XVI on September 21, 2011, for health reasons. Following Archbishop Buechlein’s retirement, Bishop Christopher J. Coyne served as the archdiocese’s Apostolic Administrator.

Archbishop Tobin is a native of Detroit. He was born May 3, 1952, and is the oldest of 13 children. He was educated at Catholic schools. He studied at Holy Redeemer College in Waterford, Wis., where he earned a bachelor’s degree in philosophy in 1975. He also studied at Mount Saint Alphonsus Seminary in Esopus, N.Y., where he received a master’s degree in religious education in 1977 and a master of divinity degree in 1979.

Archbishop Tobin professed perpetual vows as a member of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer (the Redemptorists) on August 21, 1976, and was ordained a priest on June 1, 1978. He was ordained an archbishop on October 9, 2010, in St. Peter’s Basilica in Rome following his appointment on August 2, 2010, by Pope Benedict as the Archbishop Secretary of the Congregation for Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life.

As Archbishop Secretary of the Congregation for Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life, Archbishop Tobin worked in the Vatican to oversee the more than 1 million men and women in the world’s religious orders.

Archbishop Tobin has served as a parish priest in the inner city in Detroit and Chicago. As associate pastor of Holy Redeemer Parish in Detroit from 1979 to 1984, Father Tobin was responsible for ministering to the Hispanic community. He served as pastor of Holy Redeemer Parish from 1984 to 1990. He then served as pastor of St. Alphonsus Parish in Chicago from July 1990 until October 1991.

Archbishop Tobin speaks several languages including Spanish, Italian, French and Portuguese and reads several other languages.
In the Roman Catholic Church’s heraldic tradition, the coat of arms of a metropolitan archbishop is normally composed of:

- a shield with its charges or symbols coming from family, geographic, religious and historical meanings, and/or referred to the name of the archbishop;
- a golden processional cross with two traversal bars to represent the rank of the archbishop “impaled” vertically behind the shield;
- a green hat, called a “galero,” with 20 attached tassels—10 tassels on each side;
- a pallium with small black crosses;
- a scroll with the bishop’s episcopal motto written in black below everything.

Archbishop Tobin’s coat of arms also features a gothic shape shield and bottony processional cross with five red gemstones symbolic of the five wounds of Christ.

Episcopal motto

“Gaudete in Domino,” which means “Rejoice in the Lord,” from St. Paul’s Letter to the Philippians, Chapter 4, verse 4, which reads, “Rejoice in the Lord always. I shall say it again: rejoice!”

Interpretation

In the right side of the shield—the observer’s left, being that in the heraldic shield one needs to consider the right and the left from the perspective of the soldier who, in ancient times, held his own shield—we find represented the coat of arms of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis.

It consists of a blue (azure) cross on a gold field. Here the fleur de lis symbolizes the faith brought to this area by French missionaries.

The fish and trident recall the Native Americans of this region, who spoke Algonquin, which means “at the place of spearing fish.”

The gold is considered the most noble metal in heraldry, and is the symbol of the first virtue, the faith. It is by the faith that we can comprehend the message of salvation of Our Lord.

The silver (argent) is the symbol of the transparency then of the justice and truth, fundamental dowries on which the bishop articulates his pastoral service.

The cross between the perch with the sponge, spear and mount represent the event on Golgota, and the green (vert) color recalls the hope and virtue which hold us in the pilgrimage toward salvation.

These figures come from the coat of arms of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer (Redemptorists), which Archbishop Tobin joined in the early 1970s.

The three oak leaves come from the crest of the Tobin family; beside this, the oak in heraldry is the symbol of strength, the strength which is necessary to follow the word of God to reach, at the end of our pilgrimage on Earth, the salvation of our souls. The leaves of oak stand on a blue (azure) field; this color symbolizes the separation from the worldly values and the ascent of the soul toward God, therefore the run of the celestial virtues which raise themselves from the things of the Earth toward the sky.

The fleur de lis is a classical symbol of the iconography of St. Joseph, the baptismal name of the archbishop, on a red (gules) field: this color symbolizes the love and the blood, the Love of the Father who sent the Son to shed His blood for us.

A sign of rank

A bishop’s coat of arms is distinguished by a sign of his rank. That sign, placed over the shield, is a particular version of an ecclesiastical hat that was worn in processions as late as 1870.

The hat is low-crowned, flat and has a wide brim. On a bishop’s coat of arms, the hat is green, and hanging from it are 12 green tassels, six on each side.

There is also a processional cross above the shield. The cross on a bishop’s coat of arms has one bar, and an archbishop’s cross has two bars.

The design of the shield itself differs from bishop to bishop.

You have blessed your Church through the life of Simon Bruté, first bishop of Vincennes and spiritual director to St. Elizabeth Ann Seton. Through his prayer, his intellect, his love, and his pastoral care, Simon Bruté formed future priests and guided your Church in the early days of our country.

If it be your will, may he be proclaimed a saint. We ask this through Jesus Christ, our Lord.
