RE: Total Compensation Statements

As an archdiocese, we want to support parish catechetical leaders and youth ministers in their ministerial context, but also professionally. In years past, one way we have done this is to send these lay ministers a packet with a blank work agreement and related worksheets, then encourage them to keep their job description updated and complete an annual job performance evaluation with you as their supervisor.

This year, in order to support you more directly and provide the necessary documents for these types of annual processes, we are reaching out to you directly (as well as copying parish catechetical leaders and youth ministers). Enclosed please find information that will be helpful to you as you discuss the 2018-19 program year with your PCL and/or youth minister. Rather than recommending work agreements in their previous format, we are enhancing how lay ecclesial ministers articulate their role in parish life by recommending three key elements: An up-to-date job description, a total compensation statement, and the meaningful supervision that the performance development review process we recommend provides.

In this packet you will find:

- A template for PCL and Youth Ministry job descriptions - Please ask these staff members to make necessary additions or deletions to reflect accurately their ministry roles in the parish. We would request to have a copy of each revised job description. It is important that parish catechetical leaders and youth ministers keep their job descriptions accurate on an annual basis.

- A blank Total Compensation Statement - Please ask your PCL and youth minister to complete this statement with you and send us a copy. Awareness of each catechetical leader’s compensation package helps us work with all leaders more effectively. [Two enclosed worksheets will help provide numerical amounts to plug in to this statement.]

- Two performance development review forms - one for you r PCL and youth minister to complete and give to you before her or his annual review, the other for you to complete as a record of this supervisory conversation. These completed forms allow us have a clearer sense of what annual goals are being set by leaders throughout the Archdiocese as well as how we can best support PCLs and youth ministers in their specific ministry settings.

(Over, please.)
Please have all three of these documents emailed to Ken and/or Scott as determined by each staff member’s specific role(s).

This enhanced approach to annual documentation of responsibilities, compensation and evaluation will help see to it that responsibilities are clear, compensation is suitable and supervision is substantive. If you have any questions about these instructions or the enclosed documents please let us know. We look forward to hearing back from you and pledge our continued prayers for you, your loved ones and the loving service you provide God's people.

6. Ability to maintain confidentiality of information

EDUCATION, TRAINING, AND/OR EXPERIENCE

1. Newly-hired PCLs typically have at least the equivalent of a bachelor’s degree in Catholic theology—usually 30 college- or graduate-level credits. Conditional hiring—a written agreement between pastor/PLC and PCL—of persons without this education may occur. Supervisors are encouraged to consult with the Archdiocesan Director of Catechesis before offering conditional employment. (Employees currently serving as PCLs within the Archdiocese are exempt from this suggested minimum academic requirement.) A Master’s Degree in Theology, Catechetics, or a related field is preferred. Compensation and/or specific job title at parish are influenced by the Archdiocesan Guide for Computing Salary (for Parish Catechetical Leaders).

2. Catechist certification with three years’ experience as a catechist
3. Experiences related to administration, which include working with people and program planning in church or civic group. Preferred experience is in administering at least one area of parish religious education or a practicum in religious education administration as part of a Master’s program

V. WORKING ENVIRONMENT

1. The employee is expected to attend evening and weekend events, as necessary. Travel may be required, as specified by the supervisor. In some cases, the need of the position may require extra hours beyond the normal schedule.

2. Lay ministers are vital ministers sharing the mission of the Church. They are expected to be role models and are expressly charged with leading parishioners toward Christian maturity and with teaching the Word of God. As role models, the personal conduct of every lay minister, both at Church and away from Church, must convey and be supportive of the teachings of the Catholic Church. These teachings include, but are not limited to: honoring the dignity of each human life from conception to natural death, care for God’s creation, and the belief that all persons are called to respect human sexuality and its expression in the Sacrament of Marriage as a sign of God’s love and fidelity to His Church. The Seven Themes of Catholic Social Teaching can be found at http://www.usccb.org/beliefs-and-teachings/what-we-believe-/catholic-social-teaching/seven-themes-of-catholic-social-teaching.cfm. A thorough description of Catholic Church teaching can be found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

3. Determining whether a lay minister is conducting him/herself in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church is an internal Church matter and is at the sole discretion of the pastor, administrator, and/or Archbishop.

The physical demands and work environment characteristics described above are representative of the physical capabilities and the working conditions involved in performing the essential functions of this position. Reasonable accommodations may be made if needed to enable individuals to perform the essential functions.

The employee is expected to attend evening and weekend events, as necessary. Travel may be required, as specified by the supervisor. Regular travel throughout the archdiocese is required. In some cases, the needs of the position may require extra hours beyond the normal schedule. Some physical work may be required—packing, setting up, etc.

Lay ministers are vital ministers sharing the mission of the Church. They are expected to be role models and are expressly charged with leading parishioners toward Christian maturity and with teaching the Word of God. As role models, the personal conduct of every lay minister, both at Church and away from Church, must convey and be supportive of the teachings of the Catholic Church. These teachings include, but are not limited to: honoring the dignity of each human life from conception to natural death, care for God’s creation, and the belief that all persons are called to respect human sexuality and its expression in the Sacrament of Marriage as a sign of God’s love and fidelity to His Church. The Seven Themes of Catholic Social Teaching can be found at http://www.usccb.org/beliefs-and-teachings/what-we-believe/catholic-social-teaching/seven-themes-of-catholic-social-teaching.cfm. A thorough description of Catholic Church teaching can be found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church. Determining whether a lay minister is conducting him/herself in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church is an internal Church matter and is at the sole discretion of the pastor, administrator, and/or Archbishop.

The Archdiocese recognizes that some lay ministers who contribute positively to the mission of the Church are not practicing Catholics. For lay ministers of other faith traditions, there remains an expectation that, regardless of their personal religious affiliations and beliefs, they will become knowledgeable of Catholic Church teachings, will be credible witnesses of the Catholic faith, and will be models of Christian values.

The physical demands and work environment characteristics described above are representative of the physical capabilities and the working conditions involved in performing the essential functions of this position. Reasonable accommodations may be made if needed to enable individuals to perform the essential functions.
