Archuismop Biskup urges generosity to anti-poverty appeal

Word from the Archbishop

My dear Family in Christ: As followers of Christ we must fulfill his command to love our neighbors. In this love a very important concern must be the quality of the life of our neighbors wherever they may be. We need to be informed and sensitive to their needs and their aspirations?

We need to reach out with helpful hands to assist them as they work to attain the dignity and security which is their need and their aspiration.

One of the ways the Catholic Church responds to the needs of people is through the Campaign for Human Development. Its purpose is to create an awareness of the purpose is to create an awareness of the great poverty and human suffering which still exists in the United States and to respond by helping people help themselves. As members of the Church and servants of Christ, we have an opportunity to participate in this effort. Next Sunday, November 24, the collection for the Campaign for Human Development will be taken up in the Catholic churches throughout the United States. Your generosity in Sunday's collection will benefit countless persons throughout the nation and in this Archdiocese. and in this Archdiocese.

In its short history the Campaign for Human Development has been fulfilling its purpose. Much atill needs to be done, and thus i come to you to beg for your continued generosity for this most worthy cause.

Asking God's special blessings for you and yours, I am

Devotedly yours in Christ,

Franciscan renewal

Fr. Maury to direct

THE F.I.R.P. was implemented at a meeting of English speaking provincials from around the world held last May at Mayslake Retreat House, Oak Brook, III.

Headquarters for the project will be at Alverna with Father Maury retaining his present duties as religious

EARLY DEADLINE.

Correspondents are reminded that owing to the Thanksgiving Day holiday copy and photo deadline for the November 29th issue of The Criterion is Monday noon. Also because of a tight mailing cliuation, it is possible that some readers may not receive their paper until Saturday.

+ Longe of Bukup

urged Catholics to be generous to the Annual Campaign for Human Development collection to be held in all churches this week-end, Nov. 23-

The Campaign is the U.S. Church's four-year-old anti-poverty program. Proceeds from the collection will be used to finance projects which combat the root causes of poverty. Three-fourths of the money is forwarded to the national Campaign office in Washington, D.C.; one-fourth is retained in the Archdiocese for the funcing of local projects.

GRANTS ARE made to local polect by Archbishop Blakup upon the recommendation of an Archdicesan Campaign Committee, after Donald Schmidlin, director of atholic Charilles, is director of the pour collection.

Catholic Charitles, is director of the sinual collection.

Arrierican Catholics, through the Campaign, provided an estimated $5 millibring dollars last November to ald more than 500 self-help economic and social development programs in every registal by the United Status.

"Antiqual collections for the poor will flot availcate poverty in America," said Father Lawrence J. McNamara, exceller director to CHD, "but they may introduce some hope into despairing lives. The campaign serves as a symbol of what can be done. It makes us all a little less poor."

BEGUN BY THE Catholic bishops in BEGUN BY THE Catholic bishops in 1970, the CHD has awarded a total of $20 million to a variety of programs— from consumer action agencies to the creation of rural irrigation systems. creation of rural irrigation systems.
Initial grants from the campaign have enabled many self-help community programs to later quality for more than $5 million dollars from federal, state, or private foundation sources.

The Campaign gives top priority to projects that hold out a promise of getting at the root causes of poverty by effecting institutional change.

ins EMPHASIS is on encouraging iong-term cooperation and coordination of efforts among diverse groups of people and not on handouts that might benefit a few persons temporarily without testing results. In most of the groups the poor themselves have a dominant voice in the planning of self-help projects. In addition to its funding aspects, the Campaign performs a year-round education function. A special educational component of the campaign prepares research and resource material, teaching aids and audio-visual packages for use in elementary and secondary classrooms, parish organizations, adult education courses, liturgical services and social action workshops on the local level.

Pro-life groups ask President to drop Rocky

INDIANAPOLIS — Representatives of 20 Right to Life groups from throughout indiana unanimously endorsed a resolution calling for the withdrawal of the nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as Vice President of the United States.

The resolution, directed to President Ford, was presented at Nov. 16 meeting of Indiana Right to Life affiliates held at the Pilgrim Inn here.

THE WORDING pointed out Rockefeller's heavy financial involvement with abortion and his veto of an anti-abortion bill passed by the New York legislature when he was governor of that state.

A second resolution, directed to the indiana Congressional delegation, and to Sens. Vance Harike and Birch Bayh in particular, expressed support for the Bartlett Amendment to the Appropriations Act for the Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare

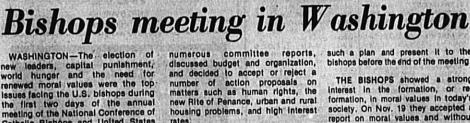

THE AMENDMENT would prohibit the use of HEW funds for sbortlons except for those necessary to save the life of the mother. The resolution noted that $50 million of HEW money was spent on 250,000 abortlons in the previous 12 months.

The Committee for the Preservation of Life, of Indianapolis, a newly-affiliated chapter, was host for the all day meeting.

Named Auxiliary

WASHINGTON—Father Daniel E. Pilarczyk, Cincinnati archdioceaan vicar for education, has been named auxiliary blahop of Cincinnati.

Father Pilarczyk, who is 40, served as assistant chancellor of the Cincinnati archdioceae from 1961 to 1963.

Crowded agenda faces nation's

HOBBY SHOW WINNERS—These talented youngsters took top honors in the Kit Crafts and Collections category at the recent CYO Cadet Hobby Show. Left to right, front row: Karen Duffy, Little Flower; Greg White, Christ the King; Cathy Rowe, St. Lawrence; Chris Wolters, St. Lawrence; and Juanita De Callone, St. Bernadette. Second

WASHINGTON—The election of new leaders, capital punishment, world hunger and the need for renewed moral values were the top-issues facing the U.S. bishops during the first two days of the annual meating of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops and United States Catholic Conference (NCCB-USCC) at the Statler Hilton Hotel here.

More than 250 bishops of the 310 in the conference were at the five-day meeting Nov. 18-22.

In the first two days, the heaviest in their general agenda, they heard

Death penalty statement stirs lengthy debate

BY JIM CASTELLI

WASHINGTON-After hours of WASHINGTON—After hours of debate, the U.S. Catholic bishops rejected a seven-page explanatory statement opposing capital punishment and tabled a vote on a short resolution simply opposing the restoration of capital punishment until Thursday, Nov. 21.

[Editor's Note: Unfortunately, the vote was scheduled after Criterion press time. We will have additional details next week.]

Auxiliary Bishop John Dougherty of Newark, chairman of the U.S. Catholic Conference Committee on Social Development and World Peace, which produced the statement, predicted at a press conference that the bishops would support the short resolution.

He also predicted that the Social Development Committee would resume work on another back-up document for the bishops to consider.

substance of the statement—opposition to the restoration of capital punishment—than on the reasoning, particularly the theological reasoning, behind it.

Cardinal John Krol, out-going president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, ruled that the seven-page statement was too long to be considered a "resolution" under conference by-laws, and must be treated as a "statement," requiring a two-thirds vote. The statement was defeated by a vote of 119-103 with three abstentions.

The thrust of the committee statement was that the Christian tradition of reverence for life and forgiveness, plus the "discriminatory" manner in which capital punishment is enforced in American society should lead Catholics and others to oppose the restoration of capital punishment.

THE STATEMENT recognized traditional theological support for capital punishment and emphasized that the committee was not challenging the principle that a state could impose capital punishment. But, the statement said: "We oppose at this time in our nation's history the use of capital punishment on the grounds of the sanctity of life and the human dignity of the person."

However, some blahops questioned whether the statement was grounded well enough in theology. Some of the discussion focused on analogies (Continued on Page 7)

THE BISHOPS elected Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati to be NCGB-USCC president for the next three years. Cardinal John Carberry of three years. Cardinal John Carberry of St. Louis was elected vice president. The most heavily debated item on the bishops' agenda was a resolution opposing capital punishment in the United States. After a lengthy and occasionally emotional debate the afternoon of Nov. 18, the issue remained unresolved.

The bishops returned to the

The blahops returned to the question the following afternoon and debated it extensively again. But again they were unable to reach a definitive conclusion. They ended the day with a decision to reject the background paper on the issue, but left a vote on the resolution itself to be decided later in the week.

A statement on world hunger presented Monday met a similar fate of delay, but for different

Instead of disagreement over the Instead of disagreement over the basic Issue, as was the case with capital punishment, the hunger issue was delayed because of a widely-expressed view that the statement by itself was not enough—a pastoral plan of action was needed as well. A committee was appointed to draft such a plan and present it to the bishops before the end of the meeting.

row: John Fox, St. Lawrence; Ted Labus, St. Plus X; Barbara Born, St. Luke; and Mary Ann Doyle, Christ the King. Back row: Cathy Coppinger, St. Luke; Rose Siener, St. Joan of Arc; Kelly Woolen, Christ the King; and Michael Sullivan, Our Lady of Lourdes. [Additional photos

THE BISHOPS showed a strong THE BISHOPS showed a strong interest in the formation, or re-formation, in moral values in today's society. On Nov. 19 they accepted a report on moral values and without any discussion voted to back an extensive effort toward value education and Christian witness to values on both the national and local lends.

levels.

Among the actions they took was the establishment of a temporary committee, chaired by Bishop John McDowell of Pittsburgh, to draft a national pastoral letter on moral values in order to emphasize and publicize their concern that renewed Christian values permeate American social and ecclesial life.

in an unusual step the bishops set selds a day for common prayer, study and reflection the day before their meeting to focus on renewal of faith.

It was believed to be the first such event since the American bishops (Continued on Page 7)

BISHOP ELECTED

WASHINGTON—Auxiliary Bishop Joseph Crowley of Fort Wayne-South Bend was elected chairman of the Communication Committee of the U.S. Catholic Conterence, a post left vacant when former chairman Archbishop Joseph Bernardin of Cincinnati was elected president of the USCC.

Teen-age scavengers aid worthy cause

We are printing this feature by Cecilia Rak of St. Michael's parish, Indianapolis, not because the project is unusual but because it is typical—typical of the enthusiasm of so many of our young people and typical of the good works they undertake in the holiday season. Sometimes we forget to appreciate our teen-agers. This is a reminder.

—The Editors

BY CECILIA RAK

"Love thy neighbor as thyself" was a command given, by Jesus Christ more

"Love thy neighbor as thyself" was a command given by Jesus Christ more than 1900 years ago. Today, centuries later, some people question the relevance of such words. Yet 27 teenagers proved in a short evening's work recently that brotherly love is every bit as vital and meaningful today as it has always been.

Equipped with paper bags, heavy costs, and effervescent enthusiasm, members of St. Michael's CYO, on Indianapolis' westside, met Sunday, Nov. 10, for a canned food scavenger hunt for the needy for Thanksgiving. Assembling in the schoolyard at 6 p.m., the teens divided into four groups and set off in opposite directions to see which group could bring back the most cans in a limited amount of time. They went in pairs from house to house asking for canned contributions.

THE IDEA FOR the collection

THE IDEA FOR the collection originated at a previous officers' meeting when Debble Szentes, secretary, commented, "You know, we really ought to do something for somebody else. Most of our recent activities have been geared for just ourselves." Other officers—Tammy Somoya, Greg Noel, Mike Doherty,

TAMMY SOMOYA, president, said, "It really felt good to see everybody work together for a worthy cause. A lot of kids showed up for the activity, I think, because they knew what they were doing was going to affect people in their own community. It meant something real and deep to them, in one and one-half hour's work, what we did will do so much for so many people. It helped to bring the members of our CYO closer."

Father Michael Carr agreed. "I was quite surprised that so many kids came down, However, in years past, the kids have always turned out; they seem to enjoy these types of projects. The food they collected will be parish, and to older folks in nursing homes."

Moderators Mr. and Mrs. Luckett added, "We are very proud of the girls and boys who collected canned goods for the needy for Thanksgiving. It showed much thoughtfulness, kindness, and consideration for persons less fortunate than they and the geature proved their true spirit of Thanksgiving."

FR. MAURY SMITH, O.F.M.

BASIC PURPOSE of the new program, as explained by Father Maury, is to "provide a system of pooling Franciscan resources and talents for the benefit not only of the corder, but of the Church and the community at large." He said that initially F.I.R.P. would be set up on a national basis, but eventually it would be enlarged to include all English-speaking provinces overseas. Father Maury, a licensed paychologist and a professional counselor, is the author of many books on various aspects of spirituality and human relations. to PLO spokesman; violence deplored

VATION SITY—Pope Paul VI received Dr. Gibreel Shukri Deeb, of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) to the UN World Food Conference in private audience Nov. 16.

The Valican has been under pressure from several Palestinian groups to grant them a papal audience. The Nov. 16 audience was granted at Deeb's request.

A well-informed source reported that during the audience the Pope deplored acts of violence and of reprisal in the Middle East. He said he is aware of the sufferings of Palestinians, and hopes negotiations would bring about long-tern solutions to the region's problems.

1---

Pope grants audience

WEEK'S NEWS IN BRIEF

BY NC NEWS SERVICE

Abortion ban 'unconstitutional'

WASHINGTON—An amendment to a Senate appropriations bill that would ban the use of federal funds for many abortions is unconstitutional, according to a report by the Library of Congress. "It may be strongly argued," the report said, "that the Bartlett amendment would result in a form of invidious discrimination against indigent women who seek and are denied abortions."

Divorce rates continue climb

WASHINGTON—The American divorce rate rose as much in the period 1970-1974 as it did in the whole decade of the 1960s, according to a U.S. Census Bureau report. In 1974, there were about 2.3 million men and 3.6 million women who were divorced and not remarried in the United States, the report said. This represents 63 divorced persons for every 1,000 persons who were in intact marriages in the same year. The rate was 47 per 1,000 in 1970 and 35 per 1,000 in 1960, the report said.

INDIANA STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

No Fee Charged

COMMERCIAL & PROFESSIONAL OFFICE

141 West Georgia Street 4th Floor

BOOKKEEPER - SECRETARY Exp. double-entry system, payroll, Type 50 wpm, shorthand 70 wpm. $500 mo. CLERK-TYPIST: Type from dictaphone, relieve on swit-chboard, 60 wpm, 2 yrs, exp. $120 wk $120 wk.

FINANCIAL COUNSELOR:
Interview individuals, families with financial problems. 5 yrs.
exp. with bank, loan co. Retired person could work 80 hrs. mo, at person could work 80 hrs. mo. at 1/3 listed pay. $600 mo. GENERAL OFFICE CLERK: Aptitude for figures, type 45-50 wpm. Detail work. $455 0mo. up. INTERNAL AUDITOR: Masters degree accounting plus public, industrial exp. CPA certificate helpful. Car, expenses furnished. $1300-$1600 mo. LEGAL SECRETARY: Type 60 wpm, shorthand 70 wpm. Also transcribe from dictaphone. Legal background helpful. $130

WK. UP. REGISTERED NURSE: Work in

wk. up.

REGISTERED NURSE: Work in community health center, rotating shift. Will accept recent grad if transcript available, resume needed for exp. applicant. $9450 yr.

SALESMAN, FOOD PRODUCTS: Demonstrate and sell canned, frozen foods to hospitals, institutions, universities, hotels and schools. Exp. req. Expenses pd., some travel. $150 wk. up.

SECRETARY: Shorthand, speedwriting exp., type 40 wpm. Other office duties. $450 mo. up. TECHNICIAN, ELECTRONIC:
Service and build gov't., medical electronic equipment. Associate degree or 5 yrs. technical lab

INDUSTRIAL & SERVICE OFFICE

141 West Georgia Street 2nd Floor

AUTO, TRUCK MECHANIC:
Own tools and trans. $2-$4.50
hr, depending on exp.
CARPET LAYER: Exp. laying pads and carpet. Replace molding. $3.50 hr.
F.O R.E.M.A.N. M.E.T.A.L.
FABRICATOR: Supervise operators of lathes, milling machines. Know set-ups, exp.
$11,500 yr.
INSPECTOR: Read blueprints, use precision instruments.
$2.50-$4 hr.
MACHINE OPERATOR: 1 yr.

exp. operating machine tools. Read blueprints. Use precision tools. Set-up operators command higher pay. $3 hr. up. MACHINE SHOP FOREMAN: 2 VIS. 879. Supervision. Available. MACHINE SHOP FOREMAN: 2 yrs. exp. supervision. Available any shift, $1000 mo.

OVERROAD SEMI-DRIVER:
Coast to coast, out as much as 2 wks. at time. Job pays by mileage. Good ref.

STATIONARY ENGINEER: Know maintenance of cooling systems. Water treatment exp. $5 hr.

Forced sterilizations charged

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—Bishop Rafael Grovas of Caguas has rejected government claims that its free sterilization program is purely voluntary. Referring to the 300,000 women sterilized in Puerto Rico since 1973, Bishop Grovas remarked, "Contrary to what the government says, they did not submit voluntarily." He added "The position taken by government authorities regarding population problems amounts to an anti-Gospel drive.

In capsule form . . .

The Dubuque, ia., city council has refused a request by seven Catholic organizations to ban the showing of the movie "Deep Throat" in that city. . . Eternity magazine, an evangelical monthly published in Philadelphia, has named Alexander Solzhenitsyn's "The Gulag Archipelago" as the most significant book of 1974 . . . Archbishop Peter L. Gerety of Newark, N.J., has approved the establishment of a Senate of Sisters in his archdlocese.

A federal district court has enjoined the state of Massachusetts from enforcing a new law which requires unmarried women under 18 to receive written consent from their parents before undergoing an abortion . . . A national Catholic committee to help prisoners of conscience throughout the world has been set up in London . . . The Attorney General of lows has stated that a hospital receiving federal funds may not fire or refuse to hire employees because of their states. ployees because of their religious or moral views on

AM 1520

Happy Thanksgiving

FM 97.1

WSVL

SHELBYVILLE
"Love Your Family"

UPHOLSTERY FABRIC

DO IT YOURSELF AND SAVE!

Select your fabric from over 1000 rolls of quality fabrics, all priced 30-60% under regular retail price. We sell mill overstocks and close outs, our selection is

Reupholstery Service Available

OPEN DAILY 8-5:30, FRIDAY NITES 'III 8 p.m., SATURDAY 10-4

» UNITED UPHOLSTERY Co.

3815 E. 10th ST. [SHERMAN & E. 10th] 353-2126

Names.

DMInn.) and Rep. Sam Stelger (R-Ariz.) have been named co-chairmen of the Congressional Committee for the 34th National Bible

Sen. Walter F. Mondale chairman of the department of canon law of the Catholic University of America.

Msgr. John J. Sell, vicar of Family Life for the Pittsburgh diocese, was named Week, Nov. 24-Dec. 1. chairman of the newly-Paulist Father John E. Lynch has been appointed Planning Federation, Bishops condemn terrorism CORDOBA, Argentina-Argentinian bishops have CORDOBA, Argentina—Argentinian bisnops have condemned terrorist threats against schoolchildren that have forced the government to post armed guards outside elementary schools in major cities. Threats to kidnap innocent children are "vile," declared Bishop Juan Radolfa Laise of San Luis, adding that they "only worsen the very grave problems plaguing our people." He called for prayers for the return of social peace to Argentina.

Washington, D.C.

Benedictine Sister Nora Leutmer, 53, who received the Presidential Award for outstanding service of the National Catholic Educational Association last May, died of cancer at St.

headquartered

Cloud, Minn. Dr. Michael Ramsey, 100th archbishop of Can-terbury, retired as primate of the Church of England and leader of the Anglican

Nov. 13.

Magr. Harrold A. Murray secretary for social development of the U.S. Catholic Conference, has been named director of planning and development for the Archdlocese of Newark, N.J.

Cardinal Wyszynaski, primate wyszynaski, primate of Poland, charged that Red authorities were blocking the rebuilding of a Catholic theological academy destroyed during World War II.

The Catholic Committee on Urban Ministery presented its 1974 Distinguished Service Award to Msgr. George G. Higgins.

U.S. astronaut John McDevitt was received in audience by Pope Paul on destroyed during World War III.

Bethlehem Mayor Elies Freij, a Greek Orthodox Christian, has urged that bethlehem and other areas of the West Bank be demilitarized and made UN protectorates for five years.

Indianapolis

Business and Service Directory

BUSINESS SERVICES

CURRAN'S PROPERTY

SERVICES bing — Heating — Air-Cond Installation & Repair

787-6251

WHEELER

ALUMINUM

Roofing - Siding

Guttering Installations & Repairs

Free Estimates

Call

Day - 293-2218 Night - 291-4493

GG See Arab

TERMITES!

ROACHES, RATS, MICE

545-1275

1035 Millersville Rd.

e Estimates - 24 Hr. Service

JOE'S PLUMBING

BUSINESS SERVICES

Licensed and Bonded 24 Hour Service

Plumbing Repairs
Bath Remodeling.
vers & Drains Unstopped

"No Job Too Big or Small" JOE FOWLER 356-2735

R & W

ROOFING CO.

Painting & Guttering

Licensed—Bonded

Free Estimates

24 Hour Service

634-7367 - 353-0883

GREGORY

CONSTRUCTION

203 South Good Avenue

Concrete & Carpentry Work

Business — 356-5305 Home — 359-7495

R.F. RANDOLPH

LUMBER CO.

Division Mohawk Mfg. Co.

2100 Cunningham Dr. Speedway, Indiana

. LUMBER

. PANELING Delivery Service

247-6201

McGinty (Tim)

Roofing &

Siding

Always on Top Repair Specialists No Job Too Small Work Guaranteed

Call Eveninge

786-9362

ELECTRICAL

J.C. ELECTRIC

787-4485-253-1142

Licensed—Bonded—Insured
PREE ESTIMATES

(OVERHEAD DOOR) -----

A Genuine Overhead Garage Door

BUSINESS SERVICES

Auto-Mate® Opener

3401 N. Shadeland

BILL CIRIELLO

DON'T FUSS, CALL US!

Wm. J. Ciriello

Plumbing Co.

702 Main St., Beech Grove

787-5391

24 Hour Emergency Service

L&L

Construction

Roofing—Guttering
Aluminum Siding

Paneling

Painting Interior & Exterior

Free Estimates

631-3901

CHILD CARE

TOT TENDERS

Also Elderly Convelescent Care HOUR — DAY — WEEK

BUSINESS SERVICES

COOMER ROOFING CO.

BOUTS and GUTTERS BEPAIRED ON NEW ROOFS - GUTTERS
Bended and Insured
636-7261

Cook's Glass & Mirror Co. Glass Tops — All Kinds Mirrors — New & Refinished Insulated Glass : Auto Glass Commercial Stove Fronts Any Kind Glass Replaced 5703 W. Morris 241-7244

The SHAMBLES REFINISH & REPAIR

Specialists on Antique Furniture Only the Finest Craftsmanship COMPLETE UPHOLSTERY SERVICE

894-7075 MILE EAST OF CUMBERLA SOUTH SIDE ROAD 40

FOR RENT

Looking for an Apartment? Selling your Home or Retiring?

Cell Meridian Management Co. MERIDIAN TOWER WEST

3965 N. MERIDIAN ST. One and Two Bedroom Sultes Now Available—$250 to $378

Doorman Service Underground Parking Swimming Pool Recreation Rooms

Luxury Apartments

STOCK PERSON Mature person, full time hipping & receiving. Apply erson.

KRIEG BROS.

Friday pay of same work

HELP WANTED

MISCELLANEOUS

Çan Goods and Usable Men's Clothes including work clothes always welcome at Talbot House, 1424 Central, Ph. 635-1192.

HELP WANTED

YOU WILL LIKE

TEMPORARY WORK register now for interesting and varied temporary office assignments. No fee. Immediate spenings for all office skills in our have experience.

olsten

CASHIERS

SPEEDWAY NORA MEADOWS W. WASHINGTON BROAD RIPPLE

Our stores offer the finest in working condition and atmosphere the year 'round. You will be trained by us at our expense for greater self-confidence the lob. In addition, enjoy the security of steady ployment: paid vacations; paid holidays; generates, discounts, life, accident, disability and militaria.

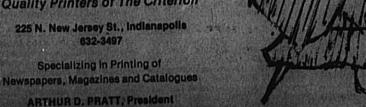

Thanksgiving

Not many people realize that our first Thanksgiving in 1621 was not a celebration of a bountiful harvest. Our Pilgrim Fathers experienced a very lean harvest that year and had suffered many hardships. Their spirits were low, but rather than giving up in bitterness, they set aside a special day to rejoice in their meager harvest and to give thanks that they had made it for another year. America was created with that kind of determination . . . the determination that no matter how difficult the present might be, we still had a lot to be thankful for and we would go on to build a better future. Today, 353 years after our first Thanksgiving, we are the strongest, most powerful and richest nation the world has ever seen. We have our problems, we have difficulties and have experienced great crises, but the determination our forefathers had lives on in us. We still have a lot to be thankful for.

PRATT PRINTING CO.

Quality Printers of The Criterion

225 N. New Jersey St., Indianapolis 632-3497

Bill Kidney's Sports Awards & Specialties Co.

T-Shirts
Ribbons
Yrophies
Plaques—Awards
Helmet Decals
Girls Kick Ball Medals
—One Day Service—

4617 E. 10th St.

Brown's

Watch & Clock Repair Service

We Bell New Watches Used Watches Clocks — Antique Models Speidel Bands Also Antique Jewelry

1705 S. Post Rd. 862-4574

SPIVEY Construction, Inc.

341 E. TROY AVE.

RUSCO orm Windows and Doors Free Estimates

639-6559

Hook Drugs, Inc.

That $92.00 cake!

BY FRED W. FRIES

A few weeks ago we reported that the top award-winning cake in the annual CYO Baking Contest brought $92.00 in the traditional auction that follows the judging.

Working on the theory that any product of the baker's art which would command such a bid must be something special, we decided to provide our readers with the recipe.

If you housewives are planning to stir up a cake for the holidays, why not try Lora Hession's prizewinner? Lora is a member of the Junior CYO at St. Malachy's parish,

COCOA CHIFFON CAKE

1/2 cup baking cocoa 1/4 cup boiling water

8 eggs, separated tsp cream of tartar 1 34 cup sifted cake flour

1 14 cup sugar 1 ½ tsp baking soda 1 tsp salt 1/2 cup salad oll 2 tsp vanilla

Mix cocoa with boiling water, Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until very stiff peaks form.

Sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl, Make well in center: Add oil, egg yolks, occoa mixture and vanilla; beat well in well. Fold in egg whites. Pour in ungreased 10" tube pan.

Cut through with spatula. Bake at 325* for 55 minutes. Increase temperature to 350* and bake 10 minutes longer or until done. Invert to cool. Frost with favorite chocolate frosting.

CHORAL GROUP HONORED-The 63member choral group from Ladywood-St. Agnes School is one of two choruses from Agnes School is one of two clinicas inchi indianapolis area schools selected to sing at the noon "tree-lighting" ceremony scheduled today (Nov. 22) at the Indiana National Bank Plaza. The other school is North Central. Sister Pat Caputo, S.P., directs the Ladywood-St. Agnes choristers.

A NEW DIMENSION—Parents are taking an active tole in the teaching of religion at Ladywood-St. Agnes School. Under the newly evolved program, parents attend mini-course sessions once a month "in order to acquaint them with the specific process and content of the religion class themes." Religion teachers implementing the program are: Sister Theresa Marian, Sister Dianne Neu, Sister Charles Ellen Turk and Miss Mary Lou Cowan. School officials believe they should involve the parents "because they are important partners in the teaching of religion."

NAMES IN THE NEWS—Fanny Ivanoff, senior varsity cheerleader at Ritter High School, recently won top honors in a state-wide cheerleading clinic conducted at West Baden by the Pepster Hall Company . . . Very Rev. Daniel Buechlein, O.S.B., president-rector of St. Meinrad School of Theology, has been elected to head the Midweat. Association of Theological Schools, Michael Merkel of St. Roch's parish, indianapolis, is on the Dean's List at St. Joseph's Franciscan Seminary, Oak

Established 1854

HAROLD D. UNGER 1601 E. New York St. — Indianapolis, Ind. — 632-5374

THE REAL PROPERTY.

CASEY DAN CASEY

ALCOA aluminum

KOOL VENT Call Day 784-4458

APPOINTED-Sister Josephine Tarquini. D.C., has been named Sister Servant (superior) for the religious community at St. (superior) for the religious community at st. Vincent Hospital, Indianapolis. In her new capacity, Sister Josephine will be responsible for the continued spiritual growth among the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul who operate the institution. She succeeds Sister Anne Schedler, D.C., who has been transferred to similar post at St. Joseph Hospital, MELKITE LITURGY—The monthly Liturgy in the Melkite Rite will be offered by Father Albert Ajamle at 4 p.m., Nov. 24, at St. Monica Church, Indianapolis.

WORTHY CAUSE-Three northside Indianapolis Catholic families are among Hoosiers participating in the annual Christmas card sale conducted by St. Joseph's institute for the Deaf in St. Louis. All have a child enrolled at the Institute at the present time. They are: Richy Carlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlen; Greg son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlen; Greg Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Olsen; and Shannon Weyman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Weyman. The latter are St. Luke parishioners, and the others live in Christ the King parish. Proceeds from the sale of the Christmas cards goes to the support of St. Joseph's Institute, an oral school for the Christmas cards and the control of the Christmas Cards goes to the support of St. Joseph's Institute, an oral school for deaf children from pre-school age through the eighth grade. Additional information about the school itself and the Christmas card sale can be obtained by calling Mrs. Carlen at 255-7471.

Grinsteiner Funeral Home

to Join me on a 15 day HOLY YEAR TOUR

to Israel and Italy MAY 22—JUNE 5, 1975 from Chicago to Chicago

If you would like further information or a descriptive brochure, please send me your name, address and telephone number.

Fr. Martin Schoenberg, OSC Crosler House of Studies

set at Marian

INDIANAPOLIS — The Marian College Chapter of the Union for Black Identity (UBI) will sponsor a benefit dance Saturday, Nov. 23, from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the intramural gym on campus.

Proceeds from the event will be shared between the Association for Loan-Free Education (ALFE) and the Marian UBI. Tickets are $2.50 and are available at the Music will be provided by "Energy Crisis."

Turkey Shoot

Roncalli Band Parents' Association will sponsor a Turkey Shoot Sunday, Nov. 24, beginning at 1 p.m. The affair will open at 1 p.m. on the St. Jude parish grounds, 5353 Mc-Farland Road. Proceeds will go to defray expenses to send the Roncalli Band to the annual Tulip Festival in Holland, Mich.

Italian supper

CORYDON, Ind. — St. Joseph's Allar Society will sponsor an Italian Spaghetti Supper on Sunday, Nov. 24, from 3 until 6 p.m. Carry-outs will be available, but customers are asked to bring their own container.

BROOKVILLE

1 MAGDALENE REISERT, 84, St.
Michael, Nov. 15. Mother of Leroy and Walter, both of Brookville; sister of Arthur Wilhelm of Connersville and Earl Wilhelm of Cincinnatt, and Sister Magdalene
Wilhelm of Terre Haute.

INDIANAPOLIS
† CATHERINE C. MAHAN, 68, St.
Anthony, Nov. 11, Aunt of John Fogarty.

† ELLA BERTHA OTT, 91, St. Patrick, Nov. 14. Aunt of Harry and Ernest Ott.

MARY DEMMER, 72, St. Mary's, Nov. 16. Sister of Beatrice Nov. 16. Sister of Beatrice Keating, James J. and Alexander Demmer.

† MICHAEL F. TAMER, Sr., 70, Our Lady of Lourdes, Nov. 16. Father of Rosemarie and Michael F. Tamer, Jr.; brother of Dalsy Clower, Adele Hush and Abraham Tamer.

† MARY J. GALLAGHER, 83, Little Flower, Nov. 18. Mother of Mrs. Gerald B. (Mary Lou) Mason.

LAWRENCEBURG
† GEORGE H. HUNEFELD, 84, St.
Lawrence, Nov. 11. Husband of Ethel; father of Ruth Conrad of Lawrenceburg; Georgia Ruhrwein

New Albany board votes teacher salary increase

CLARKSVILLE, Ind. salary increase was voted for lay teachers of Providence High School during the New Albany District Board of Education meeting here Nov.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1975, Providence teachers will receive 90% of the 1974-75 salary schedule of the Clarksville Community School Corporation. The school Corporation. The new scale would mean a $6,980 minimum (for beginning certified teachers) and $13,609 maximum (for a master's degree and 20 years

St. Rita Bazaar

Rita's Church, 19th and Martindale, will sponsor a Christmas Bazaar on Sunday, Dec. 1. Turkey dinners will be served from noon until 7 p.m. The Bazaar itself, which will open at 9:30 a.m., will feature baked goods, arts and crafts candles, candles and white elephant items.

SHELBYVILLE
† THELMA L. KUNN, 43, St.
Vincent, Nov. 18. Wile of Lloyd; mother of Linda, Greg, Brenda and Cheryl; daughter of Edward and Matilda Runnebohm; slater of Ruth Schaf, Paul Runnebohm, Kathryn
Marshall and Raymond Runnebohm.

TELL CITY
† EARL GRATZER, 62, St. Paul, Nov. 20. Husband of Helen;
brother of Anthony of Tell City.

TERRE HAUTE
1 FRANK A. EDDY, 86, St. Ann,
Nov. 15. Brother of Mary C. Eddy, Ann Grabbe and Helen Casey, all of Terre Haute.

BECKER

ROOFING CO.

ROOFING - SIDING

Above everything else, you need a good Roof"

+ FREE ESTIMATES+ 2992 W. Michigan St., Indpls

Jim Giblin, Owner

† Remember them in your prayers

NEW ALBANY

1 MAYME MISSI, 84, Holy Trinity,
Nov. 14. Mother of Daniel of Jeffersonville and Cletus of Sacramento, Calif. BRAZIL
† J. FRANK MEUNIER, 88, Annunciation, Nov. 16. Father of Francis of Indianapolis and Ruby

RICHMOND
† ALMIRA FREEMAN, 83, St.
Andrew, Nov. 19, Grandmother of Martha Frey of Richmond and John
Frey of Amhurst, Mass. † OWEN H. ALLEN, /w, St. Mary, Nov. 20. Nephews and nieces survive.

CORYDON

† DARIN RHODES, Infant, St.
Joseph, Nov. 16. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Rhodes. Brother of Brian at home; grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Stoy Owens, all of Corydon.
Great-grandson of Mary Conter of Mauckport and Mrs. Bessie
Engleman of Corydon.

† MARGARET A. KORD, 88, St. Anthony, Nov. 12. Mother of Mary Stamm, Margaret Pyatt, Carl, William and John Kord.

† SOPHIA O. WYSS, 84, St. Patrick, Nov. 16. Mother of Agnes Speck, Mary Ann Candler, Herman, Albert, James and Maurice Wyss.

LANESVILLE
† DAISY ZIMMERMAN, 82, St.
Mary, Nov. 16. Mother of Joseph
Rimmerman, Rits Baker and Mary Alice Beach, all of Lanesville. A sister also survives.

A of implementing the in-

Archdiocesan policy regarding lay teacher salaries calls for salaries to range between 80% and 90% of those paid by local school corporations. District boards are authorized to determine how the policy is carried out. A guest at the Novemb meeting was Father Raymond Kuper, superin-tendent of the Evansville Catholic schools, who described his diocese's school development program.

The next district meeting service).
The present minimum is $6,192 and the maximum is will be 8 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 11, in the library of Providence High School.

The New Albany board's finance committee will investigate ways and means dies in Louisville

INDIANAPOLIS - News was received here this week of the death of Sister Mary Gertrude Fromhold, 83, on Sunday, Nov. 17, at the Ursuline motherhouse in INDIANAPOLIS - St. Louisville, Ky.

An Indianapolis native, Sister entered the convent at 16 and taught for many years in schools in Kentucky and Maryland. She spent her summers teaching at St. Joseph's Orphanage,

Ursuline Sister

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lena Greenwell and Mrs. Clara Hotz, both residents of St. Paul's Hermitage, and one brother, Albert Fromhold, In-dianapolis. Also surviving are eight nieces and nephews.

Funeral Mass and burial were Wednesday at the Ursuline motherhouse.

Wm. Weber & Sons "Purveyors of Fine Meats" Beech Greve, Indiana 787-1391

Breaded Fish Portions For Fish Fries

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses received at the passing of our received at the passing of our sister—

HELEN M. REIDY
We are especially graftful to Magr. Cornellus Sweeney, Father Francis Eckstein and Father William Fisher, to the National Council of Catholic Women, Daughters of Isabella, Legion of Mary, Lady of Hope Hospital Guild, and to the nephews, nieces and children who came from Danville (III.), Chicago, Milwaukee, Dayton, Fort Lauderdale and Fort Wayne. We are also graftful for the many Mass Olferings and beautifuloral designs from relatives and friends, and for the understanding service of Feeney-Kirby Mortuary, Sisters—Ann, Betty and Kathryn

632-9352 2313 W. Washington St. Indianapolis, Indiana

USHER

Funeral Home, Inc

Anna C. Usher

Wm. A. Usher

Calendar of Events

SATURDAY, NOV. 23 Social at St. Gabriel school cafeteria, 6000 West 34th St., beginning at 7:30 p.m. Door prizes.

SOCIALS

MONDAY: St. Ann, 6:30 p.m.; Our Lady of Lourdes, p.m.; Our Lady of Lourdes, 6:30 p.m. TUESDAY: St. Bernadette, 6:30 p.m. WEDNESDAY: St. Francis de Sales, 1:30 to 11 p.m.; St. Roch, 7 to 11 p.m.; St. Anthony, 6:30 p.m. THURSDAY: St. Catherine's parish hall at 6:30 p.m.; Scecina High School Scecina High School Cafeteria, 6 p.m. FRIDAY: St. Bernadette school auditorium, 6:30 p.m.; St. Rita's parish hall at 6:30 p.m.; St. Christopher parish hall, Speedway, 7 p.m. SATURDAY: Knights of Columbus, Council No. 437, 6 p.m.; St. Francis de Sales, 6 p.m. SUNDAY: Cardinal Ritter High School at 6 p.m. St. Philip Neri parish hall at

Chatard Supper

INDIANAPOLIS —
Chatard High School has scheduled its Annual Spaghetti Supper for Sunday, Nov. 24, from 4 p.m. until 7 p.in. in the cateleria cafeteria.

Proceeds will benefit the athletic program.

1975 EALENDAR IN BRAILLE

IN BRAILLE

New York—The Xavier Society for the Blind announces the availability of its 1975 Braille Catholic calendar. This calendar will be sent free to any person in the United States and Canada as long as the supply lasts.

The only one of its kind, the Xavier Society's Braille calendar provides the sightless person with a convenient means of knowing each Sunday's feast, as well as all other important feasts occurring within the month. It thus acts as a companion to the Sunday Mass Propers in Braille (also available from the Xavier Society).

To receive a Braille calendar and to obtain further information on other free services in Braille, Large Print and Tape, the visually impaired should write to:

XAVIER SOCIETY FOR THE BLIND

154 E. 23rd Street

New York, N.Y. 10010

SOMEONE

NOBODY

SOMEONE FOR THANKSGIVING

You'll be happier this Thanksgiving if you give something of yourself to someone who has Giving belongs in Thanksgiving.

Attend Mass that morning in your parish church.

Take fifteen minutes to visit someone in the

Have someone who eats alone join your family for turkey and all the trimmings.

There are millions of people in the world who Better yet, feed someone who needs food.

have hollow eyes and swollen stomachs because they have no food.

We don't see them because they're overseas.

We know they're there, however. Can we ignore them, let them starve?

Your $10 by itself will feed a family of refugees

$100 will feed ten families.

$975 will give a two-acre model farm to a parish in southern India, so that the priest can raise his own food and teach his people better crop-

$10,000 will enable Archbishop Mar Gregorios to give a churchless village a church, school, rectory and convent. Name the parish for your favorite saint, in memory of your loved ones. The Archbishop will write to you.

Giving belongs to Thanksgiving, it's part of life.

How much will you give back to God?

ENCLOSED PLEASE FIND $_ Monsignor Nolan: STATE ZIP CODE THE CATHOLIC NEAR EAST WELFARE ASSOCIATION

NEAR EAST MISSIONS TERENCE CARDINAL COOKE, President MSGR. JOHN G. NOLAN, National Secretary Write: CATHOLIC NEAR EAST WELFARE ASSOC. 1011 First Avenue * New York, N.Y. 10022 Telephone: 212/826-1480

you make the difference!

Campaign Collection Sunday, November 24

CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Criterion Comment

Today the Catholic newspaper is not a superficial luxury or an optional devotion. It is an instrument necessary for those ideas which feed our Faith and which in turn render a service to the profession of our Faith.

-Pope Paul VI

Call for clothing

The World Food Conference held recently in Rome concerned itself with the first physical necessity of mansomething to eat. An Archdiocesan-wide program is being revived this Sunday, Nov. 24, that concerns itself with the second-something to wear.

The Thanksgiving Clothing Drive for the needy overseas, to be held in all parishes as part of Catholic Relief Services national drive, offers one of the most personal ways of international sharing. Usable clothing in good condition is sought, clothing which has been outgrown or outdated but still has plenty of wear in it. Obviously cocktail dresses and tuxedos aren't in much demand. Instead, check through closets, bureau drawers, and storage boxes for work clothes, practical styles made of easyto-care for materials, children's outfits and baby clothing of all kinds. Keep in mind that supplies are most urgently needed in tropical and semi-tropical climates. And don't overlook extra blankets and quilts. Hurricanes, earthquakes and other natural disasters of recent years have just about piles.

Perhaps you think that

"The absolute last thing the poor ever provide for them-selves is bedding and clothing," Father Devlin recently wrote CRS offices in Salgon. "When they have a shirt, they just keep putting patch upon patch until there is more patch than shirt."

He wrote relief officials, "in the spirit of Dives, who begged God to send a message to his brothers to not repeat his mistake, may I ask you to send this note to your American superiors thanking them for the clothing and telling them to double or triple their efforts."

More than a million pounds of clothing and bedding is gathered annually, some of it shipped overseas for immediate use, some of it stocked in CRS warehouses for emergency calls. Every Catholic of the Archdiocese has an opportunity this year to help, and until Saturday, Dec. 7, to do so.

Rooting out poverty the world do they manage?," as The fifth collection for the Human Campaign Development will be taken up in churches throughout the Archdlocese and the nation this week-end. In some quarters, this year's collection is being viewed as a critical index to Catholic determination to help the poor. Not everyone is optimistic that that determination, announced with a flourish five years ago, will persist over the long haul.

There is something to be said for the pessimism. The collection has never come up to expectations and it has slipped significantly each year. In the first year, 1970, the collection brought in nearly $8.5 million; receipts dropped to $7.5 million in 1971 and $7 million in 1972 and 1973.

We're not saying that $7 million is peanuts. It is a great deal of money. But it is not nearly the amount that a concerned, committed national body of Christians is capable of giving. The amount, after all, is approximately equal to what cities of less than 1 million population raise for the United Fund. In terms of individual Catholics, it means only 14 cents each.

This year, of course, there is the growing economic gloom to contend with. Unemployment rolls are swelling. Enforced vacations and lay-offs in autorelated industries are ballooning. Inflation corrodes the buying—and giving— power of low and middle income families.

Yes, it would seem the pessimists have the better part of the argument. Not, however, according to Father Lawrence J.

McNamara, national director of the Campaign. He believes the serious economic condition will serious economic condition will help, not harm, the collection.

"Concern for those who are hurting the most is greater when times are hard," Father McNamara said. He believes there was no greater period of sharing than during the Great Depression of the 1930s.
"Those who have very little."

Depression of the 1930s.

"Those who have very little are more likely to share with someone who has even less," he said. "When there's money all over, there is an inclination to feel everyone is doing well." But when prices go up and people start worrying about how they can cut back or do without, they begin to wonder about how others are being fourt, he said. ers are being hurt, he said.

low many times in recent eks have you asked, "How in depleted Catholic Relief stock-

clothing collections aren't worth the bother. So did Jesuit Father James Devlin at one time. But now that he runs a mission in a small Vietnamese village and is on the receiving end, he thinks otherwise.

you thought of an elderly couple on Social Security, perhaps, or a family whose father has been laid off, or the widow sup-porting two children on a clerktypist's pay. Surely we are not selfish and insensitive. We realize that if we are having a harder time of it these days, there are others infinitely worse off, others who have never known anything but the grinding weariness of poverty. It is for these people that the Bishops undertook the Campaign for Human Development. And it is these people that American Catholics will be thinking of as they give, more generously than they have ever done, in the annual Campaign collection.

We're siding with Father McNamara. Hard times don't harden the heart. They make us more aware of our neighbor's troubles.

LETTERS WELCOME

Letters to the Editor on subjects of general interest are always welcome. We reserve the right to edit letters, when necessary, but we promise to be as sparing as possible. Just address your comments to: Editor, The Criterion, P.O. Box 174, Indianapolis 46206. Letters to the Editor on subjects of

In press, nothing succeeds like survival

BY MSGR. GEORGE G. HIGGINS

There are those who say that Commonweal magazine, now celebrating its 50th anniversary, has lost its old sparkle and would not be missed if it were to go out of existence. I don't agree with them at all. Commonweal, like any other weekly, admittedly has its ups and downs, but when it's up, it's still in a class by itself. Witness, for example, it's combined Nov. 8-15 special anniversary

"Faith: The Struggle to Belleve." This one issue is almost worth the $15 price of a year's subscription which, though steep enough, is not at all prohibitive by today's inflated standards.

Since Commonweal has no endowment and no financial "angels," it needs thousands of new subscriptions just to keep up with rising costs and thousands more to enable it to face the future with some sense of financial security. Why not take out a Christmas aift subscription for your favorite relative or friend?

This is the second time in recent months that I have used this column to put in a "plug" for Commonweal. I do so this time with a certain note of do so this time with a certain note of urgency. Now is the time—two or three years from now it may be too late—for all good men to come to the assistance of a periodical which has served us well for 50 years and, in my opinion, would be sorely missed if we were foolish enough to let it go to the wall for lack of adequate funding. Commonweal's mailing address is 232 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016.

ANOTHER CATHOLIC weekly National Catholic Reporter, also needs and deserves the support of the Catholic community as it celebrates its 10th anniversary.

I am doubly pleased to put in a birthday "plug" for NCR this week if only to take the sting out of something I said about it (humorously I mistakenly thought) in the last release of this column. I was simply trying to have a bit of fun with NCR when I twitted it last week for being a wee bit stuffy in its 10th anniversary of its own editorial image. That was a blunder on my part. I soon discovered that my awkward attempt at humor fell completely flat with some of NCR's admirers. They thought I was being rather snide and that I was deliberately trying to hurt the paper, rather than help it.

I AM SORRY about that and, cross my heart, I promise not to do it again. The fact is that I am a strong supporter of NCR, have read almost every single issue of the paper from cover to cover, and would be distressed to see it go out of existence for lack of adequate support from the Catholic community. The best way to prevent that from happening in this period of double-digit inflation is for its friends to digit inflation is for its friends to solicit thousands of new subscriptions for the paper. If any of our readers would like to lend their support to this worthwhile effort, NCR's address is P.O. Box 281, Kansas City, Mo. 64141. The annual subscription rate to the paper is $12,

I am not going to pretend, of course, that I have agreed with everything I have read in NCR during the past 10 years. To the contrary, there have been times—especially in its early days—when I thought the paper took itself too seriously and was a tritle sophomoric (and, at times, a wee bit self-righteous to boot) in its blunderbuss attack on the ec-clesiastical Establishment. Be that as it may, NCR, in my opinion, has performed an indispensable service to the American Catholic community during the past decade. I hope and pray that, like Commonweal, it will survive to celebrate its Golden

I HAVE THE impression, incidentally, that NCR, under its present editor, Donald J. Thorman, is more popular with the Establishment than he and his associates might be inhe and his associates might be clined to suspect. Grousing about the frankness and irreverence of NCR is, of course, a favorite indoor sport in certain ecclesiastical (and lay Catholic) circles. Curlously, however, many of its most vocal critics continue many or its most vocal critics continue to read it religiously—if they will pardon the expression. Moreover, though they would never admit it even to their confessor, they would probably be sorry to see it go out of

The 10th anniversary of NCR is no time, however, to be talking swen time, however, to be talking even about the remote possibility of its going out of existence. As in the case of its more venerable jubilarian, Commonweal, now is the time for all good men to come to its aid and assistance.

To Don Thorman, and to all of his associates in Kansas City-sincere congratulations and many happy

DALE FRANCIS SAYS

Last decade saw giant steps toward unity

BY DALE FRANCIS

It was 10 years ago on Nov. 20 that the Council Fathers of Vatican II approved the Decree of Ecumenism by an overwhelming 2,054 to 64 vote. It was a document that opened new vistas for the hope that there might vistas for the hope that there to one day be Christian unity. There is a celebration of this ecumenical milestone this year so it is well that we should look to see how the ecumenical movement

To know how it goes, it must be placed in a context of history, not in the context of the hopes of some enthusiasts. Viewed in the context of history there has been great progress, but if it is to has been great progress, but if it is to be judged by some enthusiasts who expected yesterday that Christian unity would come tomorrow, then obviously there is disappointment. I view it in light of my own knowledge of how things used to be. I have been committed to the cause of Christian unity all of my adult life. Back in 1957, when most becole didn't

Back in 1957, when most people didn't even know how to pronounce the word, I entered the ecumenical movement with Operation Un-derstanding, a newspaper designed for the clergy of other Churches. It brought me into weekly dialogue with some 15,000 clergymen of all denominations. I soon was carrying on a correspondence with clergymen of many churches, visiting with them, seeklys before their clergy and their speaking before their clergy and their people.

WHAT I DISCOVERED was that our brothers of other Churches did not know us at all—and it was for the most part our own fault. One clergyman reported that although he had been in cities with many Catholics all his life, he had never found an opportunity to speak with any priest. There was culpability on both sides but we Catholics surely did little to but we Catholica surely did little to open ourselves to our Protestant

For anyone who was involved in the meeting of Protestants and Catholics in the 1950s, the change in two decades has been beyond the wildest decades has been beyond the wildest hopes. But there were others who came to the ecumenical movement once the momentum had begun, who came on the high tide of the first exciting ecumenical developments.

NOT REALLY understanding the situation as it had been, they optimistically hoped that there would be union of Christianity soon. Having come in at high tide, they now are disappointed that the high tide no longer exists and the movement is no longer moving at its early fast pace.

They were deluded because the first steps were the easy ones, they didn't understand it was not possible to continue at that pace.

The movement now is slow and even some of that which seems to be movement may be illusionary. When a group of Lutheran and Catholic scholars reached some mutual scholars reached some mutual conclusions earlier this year concerning the papacy, it was heralded by some unrealistically. The Lutheran agreement was not to a Catholic understanding of the papacy and much in the Catholic position included conclusions that the Magisterium of the Church was not likely to accept.

ONE THING that must be understood is that whatever the con-clusions reached in consultations between scholars of various Churches and scholars of the Catholic Church, they do not have any effect unless they are finally ratified by the Pope and the Bishops.

And it must be remembered that ecumenism for Catholics never involves some homogenization process. The only way any Catholic can enter into authentic ecumenical discussion is as a Catholic, fully and completely committed to the teachings of the Catholic Church.

We were called by the Decree of Ecumenism to respect for others, for recognition of our own failures, to realization that we need to come to know our brothers of other Christian Churches, that we should seek to find explanations of our beliefs that can be better understood by others.

BUT AT THE same time, the decree warned that "Nothing is so foreign to the spirit of ecumenism as a false conciliatory approach which harms the purity of Catholic doctrine and obscures its assured genuine meaning."

So the Catholic in ecumenism must always be true to what the Church teaches, he must be fully and totally a committed Catholic If he is to enter into any real ecumenical com-munication. Those who want the manifestations of unity before unity manifestations of unity before unity exists—asking inter-Communion, feigning a unity, can not serve the cause of authentic ecumenism.

As the Decree of Ecumenism says, the final hope for Christian unity lies in the work of the Holy Spirit. We, by our lowering and respect open the way for our love and respect, open the way for the work of the Holy Spirit. The disunity dates back centuries. We have made great progress in one

Anti-Catholicism: legacy of liberal elite?

This is the second of a three-part series on anti-Catholicism written by two members of the staff of the Florida Catholic and distributed by National Catholic News Service.

By RAY ARMSTRONG and HENRY LIBERSAT

"It seems to me that If the Roman "It seems to me that if the Roman Catholic Church suspects any possible resurgence of anti-Catholicism, it would be directing some penetrating questions to its constituency as to what it might be doing or falling to do."

This response to questions about anti-Catholicism today by a highly placed Presbyterian minister (who wished to remain anonymous), raises a good point.

I CAN'T MAKE IT FOR BOWLING TONIGHT, FRED "

THIS IS MY NIGHT TO BE ON DUTY WITH A DOCTOR AT THE LOCAL SUPERMARKET CHECK-OUT COUNTER!

BUT THE minister gives too much credit to the sensitivity of Catholic leadership, both lay and cierical. And his implied image of a monolithic Church capable of immediate, united response to an attack, does not fit the Quick response can be expected, however, from an author and syndicated writer such as Father Andrew Greeley.

The priest-sociologist views current anti-Catholic sentiment as stemming from the "liberal elite" who cannot tolerate their fabricated image of today's "white ethnic" (read: Catholic) who is "a racist, hard hat, ignorant, hawk slob."

"There is a rise (in anti-Catholicism) because the liberal elites of the country need a scapegoat," Father Greeley says, His reasoning seems to be that the "elite" wants to bottle up the political effectiveness (and/or religious effectiveness) of those who stand in the way of liberality, openmindedness and unfettered freedom in our country.

FATHER GREELEY notes that the control procedure of the elites (he does not call it a conspiracy) is evident in the following data: Poles and italians are aimost totally absent from the boards of large corporations; Catholics are invisible on the senior faculties of great universities; Catholics are just about non-existent on the boards and staffs of large foundations.

The griest-sociologist also points on the boards and state of large foundations.

The priest-sociologist also points out that the U.S. is the only nation in the West which does not aid parish achools. On the contrary, proponents of absolute separation of church and state rail against the Church even for asking aid for their students. School aid goals and pro-life, goals of Catholics are often regarded as hierarchial plots, he contends.

TAKING ABORTION as an example, the bishop says that because Catholics are the largest single group opposed to abortion, the Church has been the target of some "vicious attacks" by Irresponsible opponents. "The same thing is true with regard to a number of issues involving moral permissiveness and injustice which the Church has spoken against." But he notes that such opposition is a TAKING ABORTION as an example, the Church has spoken against." But he notes that such opposition is a "kind of unintended compliment to Catholic commitment to moral values and decency in human relationships."

Bishop Rausch and Father Greeley agree that the surge of the Catholic people in social action and public policy fields presents no real threat to those who disagree with Catholic positions. Both believe that any threat exists only in the minds of those who, as Bishop Rausch said, "deeply resent any obstacle to their efforts to reshape society according to their opposed philosophy of life."

DESPITE THE selectiveness of those who react against the Catholic Church, the bishop and the sociologist say they believe there is sufficient reason for an organization like the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights.

The league, formed in 1973 around the leadership of Jesuit Father Virgil Blum and attorney Stuart Hubbell, is designed to counter specific anti-Catholic events in the media or in corporate hiring practices.

The rebuttal of talsehood and the challengs to untruth—in court when necessary—form the cement which keeps this group in existence.

One who disagrees with the purposes of the league but who senses an incipient anti-Catholicism is Augustinian Father Patrick O'Nelli, chairman of the national Catholic Campus Ministry Association.

Those who use Catholic labels indiscriminately, he charges, have "a keyhold mentality," a lack of vision. And as for the league, he calls it "rubbish."

YET, THE Augustinian priest, also director of Campus Ministry in the diocese of Orlando, Fis., says that he has experienced anti-Catholicism both from individuals and groups.

Father O'Neill satimates that the major source of such ferment is from two groups: those who have dropped out of Catholic or Protestant churches and those who are still within the Catholic Church itself, but who are merely wearing the Catholic label.

"The Church," he says, "has experienced a political transition from a major monarchical structure, rooted in a relationship of Church and state... to a self-leased democratic model—and in most instances just for the sake of change.

the sake of change.
"This sometimes chaotic transition has produced a growing number of people who are angry with their leadership, angry with their spiritual leaders. Perhaps this is mostly from the older generation... but there is another backlash from the young."

Father O'Neill says he does not see "that [Catholics] are a threat to anything because we still have found no way to truly become

Father Greeley, then, attributes present day sniping at Catholics to the failure of Catholics to conform to the dominant (WASP?) standards of acciety.

Bishop Rausch says that our moral stance is unacceptable to others; Father O'Neill believes that embittered drop-outs are the source of many of the barbs being slung at both Catholic belief and policy.

[NEXT: Those who see little anti-Catholicism.]

The CRITERION 124 W. Georgia, P.O. Box 174 Indianapolis, Ind. 46208

Phone (317) 635-4531

asimaster: Please return PS Form 3578 to the Office of Publication.

Isn't there a law on talking in church?

BY MSGR. R. T. BOSLER

Q. I am completely turned off by the usnecessary, loud talking in church by both priests and laity. The Sisters taught us to remain silent in church and when necessary to communicate to whisper. Is there a Canon Law that stipulates there is to be no loud talking in the presence of the presence of the Blessed Sacrament?

A. No. Church law urges those whose duty it is to teach religion to instill in their pupils devotion for the Blessed Eucharist. Devotion and respect for the Real Presence of Jesus in the Sacrament has been and is expressed in various ways. Custom, not law, determines this, and customs vary considerably from age to age and nation to nation.

The most progressive of us would be shocked if we could turn the clock back and take part in a Mass held in one of the great cathedrals of the Middle Ages. I can remember how surprised I was as a student in Rome, twenty-seven years before Vatican Council II began, at the free and easy way the Italian priests and laity behaved in church. They were "at home" there—priests joking and laughing with youngsters jumping around them, housewives chatting their children chased one another around the church.

Respect can be inspired by fear and awe or, by intimacy and un-derstanding. The northern cultures (German, Irish, English, which have largely influenced the Church in our country) seem to have developed a Eucharistic custom based more on understanding. In the Eucharist we have the God who humbled Himself so that he might be approachable and we might be intimate with him. I think the Latin culture has reflected this belief better than the northern.

We are developing a new way of expressing our Eucharistic belief today, and though there are some crudities and excesses in the transition, in time, I feel, we will come to think not so much of "God in the tabernacle" as of God who remains with us in the Real Presence as our Travel, as the old saying goes, is broadening. If more of our people who are disturbed by the new worship patterns could attend a papal Mass in St. Peter's they might find it easier to accept the changes. To assure yourself a seat you arrive at the basilica at least two hours before the ceremony. You spend your time inceremony. You spend your time introducing yourself and talking to the people around you. Some who came even earlier you see fortifying themselves with a sandwich. When the pone arrives you have it he the talking the pone arrives you have it he talking the pone arrives your talking to the pone talking talking to the pone talking ta themselves with a sandwich. When the pope arrives you know it by the mighty roar that arises as people great him with shouts and clapping. The Mass itself is majestic and solemn and makes you feel close to heaven. You know you are part of a great celebration and that this is no time for private prayer. You don't want to follow anything in a book: you want to follow anything in a book; you want to follow anything in a book; you want to enjoy the feeling that you belong to something great and that you are rejoicing with others. This cannot be duplicated in a parish church, but the experience of it only once helps you understand why the spirit of the new liturgy encourages clapping at ordinations and weddings, acting like a family and greeting one another at Mass and a little less awe and more intimacy with Christ in the Eucharist for laymen as well as priests.

Q. A divorced Catholic who remarries cannot have the benefit of a priest to perform any kind of a ceremony, but the Church recognizes a Catholic marriage performed in a Lutheran church where our priest's presence wasn't even allowed. To me this adds insult to injury. I realize a divorced person isn't entitled to the Mass and a Catholic marriage, but why can't a priest perform some ceremony if the Church now sanctions a marriage in a Protestant church? This is not just or fair.

A. You are mixing potatoes and shoes. If a divorced Catholic is unable to be married in the Church, that means the Church considers this particular person incapable of a valid marriage. No ceremony, civil or religious, can in any way change the situation in the eyes of the Church. It is not a matter of the divorced Catholic being punished by depriving him or her of the services of the priest. The person is not free to marry. A priest who would perform any kind of ceremony would be condoning something wrong. something wrong.

In the other case, we presume that both the Catholic and the Protestant are free to marry. The Church in this case dispenses the Catholic party from the obligation to be married before a priest and two witnesses. For a great part of the history of the Church it was not necessary for a Catholic to be married in the presence

o 1974, Universal Press Syndicate

ADDITIONAL HOBBY SHOW WINNERS-Hobby Show winners in the Fine Arts and Skilled Crafts category were, left to right, front row: Vince Hosey, Little Flower; John Noel, St. Michael; Carrie Nitz, Immaculate Heart, Daye

Ostendorf, St. Lawrence; and Charles Revard, Immaculate Heart. Back row: Jeff Weissenberger, Little Flower; Cathy Cronin, St. Simon; John Dumbacher, St. Lawrence; and Karen Williams, St. Lawrence.

STILL MORE HOBBY SHOW WINNERS-Hobby Show champions in the Baking and Sewing category are shown above. Left to right, front row: Laura Downton, St. Michael; Marji Johnson, Our Lady of Lourdes; Lisa Sabotin, Our Lady of Lourdes; Pat McGinnis, St. Plus X; and Kimberley Kay Walls, Little Flower. Back row: Mary May, Little Flower; Mary Ann Morton, St. Luke; Mary Coleman, Little Flower; Ellen Glassmeyer, Our Lady of Lourdes; and Grace Sahm, Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Breakstone Sugar Creek Foods

"Stay in Shape" Yogurt & Cottage Cheese

Baker Engineering Co.

1134 N. Tibbs Ave.

636-5126

Wallcovering Boutique

A New Concept in Home Decorating Center Featuring — A Complete Line of Wallpaper and Vinyls

Catholic Salvage Bureau

"Help Us To Help Others!"

YOUR DONATIONS ARE ALWAYS APPRECIATED

639-9583

happy holidays

United States Auto Club, Inc.

Noel-Smyser

Engineering Corporation

Engineering and Equipment for Automation in Business and Industry

Phone: 244-4437

Indianapolis, Indiana 46224

1910 W. 16th St

INDIANAPOLIS

P.O. Box 24042

Indiana Farmers Town and Country Mutual Insurance Companies

BEST STEAK HOUSE

TED'S RESTAURANT

36 E. Washington St. Next Door To Best Steak House

NEW TED'S STEAK HOUSE

2 Lafayette Road - Eagledale Pi
Indianapolis, Indiana 46204

TED'S STEAK HOUSE Madison Ave. At Thompson Rd. 783-9257

Home - Business - Farm - Auto 10 W. 106th St.

Bob's Transmission Service and Garage

QUICK AND DEPENDABLE SERVICE

6520 Brookville Rd

INDIANAPOLIS

DEEDS EQUIPMENT COMPANY, INC.

CONSTRUCTION AND ROAD EQUIPMENT LAWRENCE, INDIANA

Preston's Super Markets

6 Convenient Locations to Serve You

Indianapolis

MARIEN HARDWARE CO.

"KEYS MADE"

Hardware — Plumbing Supplies — Paints Glass and Electrical Supplies

3604 MADISON AVENUE

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA

Marsh Garage

CARL MARSH and LAWRENCE TEIPEN

631-9328 1368 South Belmont St., Indianapolis (Corner Howard and Belmont)

Dura-Containers

6400 English Ave., Indianapolis

356-6481

Rost Jewelry Co.

"Jewelry of Distinction"

25 N. Illinois Eastgate Shopping Center Glendale Shopping Center Lafayette Square Shopping Center Castleton Square Mail

Indianapolis

For A CHRISTMAS SHOPPING TREAT

See The Unique GIFTS
At The

Bird Gage And Enjoy Luncheon In The Quaint Atmosphere 11-2 p.m.

BROAD RIPPLE VILLAGE 6417 Ferguson 65th & College then 2 Blocks East 255-1567

Sentry Security System

All Guards Trained in: First Aid—Fire Detection & Prevention—Civil Law—Public Relations
Professional Polygraph
4012 N. Keystone Call 545-23

Bryant Heating & Air Conditioning Co.

1600 East 35th Street

924-5773

HOGAN-MAYFLOWER

Local - Long Distance - International

Containerized Storage
Office Moving Specialists
Packing & Crating Services

Massachusetts Ave. Indianapolis, Indiana

John W. Flynn Insurance Agency Inc.

All Lines of Insurance

632-8538

Hudson's Mens' Wear

Eastgate & Lafayette Square

Indianapolis, Indiana

The Beaulful

Bible Story

Arthur S. Maxwell

Home Health Education Service

For Information Phone 251-0933 or Write P.O. Box 20067, Indianapolis, I

RECONCILIATION BETWEEN MAN AND NATURE

BY FR. WALTER BURGHARDT, S.J.

Last week, I defined the rupture between man ar man and things. man and nature, between

Today I go on to the next step: What does this rupture ask of us? Ob-viously, reconciliation. But how do we achieve reconciliation? The answer is not easy, because the problem is complex; and the problem is particularly complex because it is not clear how we have come to this unpretty

For some experts, we are where we are ecause of an American mentality, an American attitude, an American value system. We see the material world as a giant cookie jar. The world is a commodity and we are consumers. Since this life is either all there is or a vale of tears while we wait for a better life, it makes sense to raid the cookie Jar. And so we profit, we pleasure, we pollute (Cf. J. Barrie Shepherd, "Theology for Ecology," Catholic World 211 (1970) 172-75).

OTHER EXPERTS point to a dilemma that has confused American society since the 19th century: We worship nature, yet we exploit it. On the one hand, there is the religion of nature. Many work in the city while dreaming of the country; they work on supersonic transports and live in ranch houses to escape the city's noise. In communion with nature, they seek deity, virtue, vitality; finding God in the woods, they let the city stew in its sin. On the other hand, there is the religion of civilization. It was symbolized by the steam locomotive: We sang about it, its ability to leap rivers, sang about it, its ability to leap rivers, grind rocks into powder, trample down hills. Here nature is defined by its openness to manipulation and exploitation (Cf. H. Paul Santmire, "Ecology and Schizophrenia: Historical Dimension of the American Crisis," Dialog 9 (1970) 175-92).

Nature is open to manipulation

BY FR. CARL F. PFEIFER, S.J.

AN ATTRACTIVE YOUNG woman

AN ATTRACTIVE YOUNG woman and a sweet-scented magnolia blossom . . . a human being captivated by the beauty and scent of a flower . . . a fact and a blossom standing out from a dark background . . . highlight their interrelationship a woman and a flower . . .

... a woman and a flower ... a momentary bond ... suggesting a profoundly mysterious relationship ... between humanity and nature ... a relationship pregnant with pleasure and pain . . . a relationship whose depths open out to the Creator.

A flower . . . a sacrament? . . . revealing the hidden beauty of God . . making present His attractiveness . . stirring a life-expanding joy in the heart of someone sensitive enough to notice . . Men and women of faith . . so the Bible tells us . . noticed in the stars the awesome attractiveness of God . . They sensed His calming presence in

They sensed His calming presence in the still, quiet breeze . . . The sun

... . His absolutely dependable love refreshing waters were a sign of His life-giving Spirit . . . They caught sight of Him in the beauty of nature

. The mighty storm winds spoke of powerful presence . . . Cool and moon revealed His faithfu

Others take us back a glant step. They blame our ecological crisis on the Christian understanding of the Old Testament. As they see it, the scientific stance of the Western world goes back to the first page of Scripture: "God created man in His own image, in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them. And God blessed them, and God said to them: 'Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the air and over every living thing that moves upon the earth '" (Gn 1:27-28).

Subdue . . . dominion.
Christianity (so the charge runs) sees in man the one center of the universe. All else—soil and sea and sky, blue marlin or bird of paradise, oil or coal or natural gas—all that is not man has for purpose, for destiny, to serve man, to serve his purpose, to serve his pleasure. Man is not part of nature; somewhat like God, he transcends nature. Man not only differs from the subhuman; the subhuman is his slave.

Things subhuman are man's slave

AND WESTERN MAN has lived this theology, has played his role of master, with a vengeance. In laboratory and forest, in factory and refectory, we pillage and we rape, we devour and we waste. Why not? It is I devour and we waste. Why not? It is I who am God's image, master of all I survey—king of the earth (said some early Christian writers) as God is King of the universe. Man will be utterly one with nature only when "things" no longer resist man's will, no longer struggle against him.

Finally, a perceptive Protestant ethician, Joseph Sittler, insists that our basic ecological error is that we Christians have separated creation and redemption. The reason why we can worship nature in Vermont and at the same time manipulate nature in New York is because, in our view, the redemption wrought by Christ leaves untouched the creation wrought by

And once we wrench redemption

a constant reminder of the transcendent, mighty, gentle Creator ... intimately present ... in the world He shaped ... a lovably loving ... enticingly attractive ...

mysteriously powerful Person.

God is so close . . . His presence is almost sensed . . . glimpsed . . . touched in the mysterious beauty and power of nature . . . Yet we tend to be blind . . deaf . Insensitive . . to His presence . . We fall to notice

. . . taken up with ourselves . . . our works . . . We are busy . . . con-works . We are busy . controlling . using . even destroying nature . We need God's help to open our eyes . . to sensitize our heart . . our mind . . so we can stand in awe . . or stop to enjoy

. . or pause in wonder . . or thrill to a fresh experience . . If only we are open to Him . . God's Spirit can gently renew our senses and spirit
. to notice and respond to the to notice and respond to the Creator . . . trying to catch our at-a flower

tention . . . in the daily miracles, great and small . . . that fill the humanity . . . nature . . . and God

o 1974, NC News Service

A woman . .

. . . "Lord that I may see!"

PHOTOMEDITATION

from creation, once we put nature out there and grace in here, as long as we omit from our theology of grace man's omit from our theology of grace man's transaction with nature, it is irrelevant to Christians whether we reverence the earth or ravish it (Cf. Joseph Sittler, "Ecological Commitment as Theological Responsibility," Idoc, Sept. 12, 1970, pp. 75-85; also his remarks in John H. Miller, C.S.C., ed., Vatican II: An Interfaith Appraisal (Notre Dame: Univ. of Notre Dame Press, 1966) pp. 426-27).

Now each of these analyses says something important about man's rupture from nature, how that rupture rupture from nature, how that rupture came to be; and so each suggests in its own way how the rupture may be repaired, how man can be reconciled with his earth. But from all these analyses one word emerges as a critical corrective: fesponsibility. I am responsible for my earth. But if responsibility is to be real, is to lead to reconciliation, I must frame a fresh attitude to the earth, to all that is not human, How?

FIRST, I DARE NOT interpret the Genesis command "subdue the earth" to mean that God has given man unrestricted power to do with the earth whatever he will. God gives man not despotism but stewardship. And a steward is one who manges what is steward is one who manages what is someone else's. A steward cares, is concerned, agonizes; he may not plunder or waste; he is responsible, can be called to account for his stewardship. "The earth if the Lord's" (Ps. 24:1).

(Ps. 24:1).
Second, we shall not be responsible stewards unless we shake off the consumer mentality: More things equals better persons. How difficult this is, the energy crisis reveals. We Americans, 6% of the world's population, have been consuming 30% of its energy. Our government's initial solution to the sudden shortage? For a short time, sacrifice, less consumption. In the long run, how can we continue to consume 30%? Our spontaneous solution: Project Independence, the world as com-petition, Only later did we hear Project interdependence, the world as community....

Energy shortage a major problem .

Third, we shall not be responsible stewards unless we sense the intimate unity, the inescapable solidarity, that links man to nature. We must take seriously the mystery-laden affirmation of St. Paul: When man in Christ is finally restored to his true nature and destiny, "the creation itself will be set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the glorious liberty of the children of God" (Rom 6:21). Man and his world are intended by God to grow together, to be redeemed together; they share a common destiny.

This means, fourth, an awareness that the subhuman is sacred. Everything that exists, from ocean floor to outer space, is precious because it reflects the God whose whole being is summed up in a monosyllable: He is. And everything that lives, from the simple amoeba through a field of wheat to the sulphur-bottom whale, is more precious still, because it images the God who is Life. Nature is sacred in its own right, even apart from man.

Nature images God who is Life

RESPONSIBLE stewardship means, fifth, a realization that the earth belongs to all men. I do not deny your fifth, a realization that the earth belongs to all men. I do not deny your right to private property; but private property is not an absolute. It is subordinate to core personal rights: the right to life, to human dignity, to bodily integrity. America is not entitled to keep or consume everything it can produce or purchase. It is through the things of earth, from water to atomic energy, that man becomes human or inhuman; it is largely by his use of God's creation that man is saved or damned. And so it is frightening that two out of every five human belongs fall asleep hungry each night; it is frightening that, despite the dollars pouring into Latin America, the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. Each man, each woman, each child have a strict right to as much of this earth's resources as they need to live a human existence in union with God. The earth is man's.

I have spent much epace on attitudes, because only a new attitude can change America from rapist to steward. Only a fresh vision can change enemies into partners, reconcile man and his earth. But it love will not change us—love of God, of God's image, of God's creation—perhaps fear will. Raping the earth may destroy us, here and hereafter.

Deer stand at the fringe of a snowy woods in Wisconsin, [NC photo by George

THE CHURCH AND I

Man is a sinner of own free will and hereafter.

goes to the whole meaning of life here

LOOK MORE CLOSELY at the powers to act in special ways.

So, having two lives, we are in the difficult position of having two sets of habits: With Sanc-tifying Grace a naturally two sets of habits: With Sanc-tifying Grace a naturally pessimistic man gets the virtue of Hope—without losing his ten-dency to pessimism; a naturally lustful man gets the virtue of Temperance, lust continues to solicit him [as it solicited St. Augustine to the end of his life].

Augustine to the end of his life).

There is no contradiction. Grace gives us the power to act virtuously for the love of God. But it does not of liself remove our hatural tendency to act sinfully for the gratilication of self. So that there is a war within us—two sets of habits in conflict, now one victorious, now the other. Every man's problem is to bring his natural habits and his supernatural habits into harmony. It is rather like a great musician playing on a defective plano. He cannot stop the discords and musician playing on a derective plano.

He cannot stop the discords and disharmonies solely by working harder at his music, someone must tune the plano. In the matter of sin ourself is the defective plano and only ourself can tune it.

BY F. J. SHEED

Consider the first practicing Catholic one meets, oneself would do. He is born into the tife of Christ, ind-Welt by the Trinity, nourished by the Eucharist; he does not look, or even feel, reborn, or indwelt, or eucharistically nourished. Yet all these things he is.

these things he is.

The Holy Spirit is at work in him. By Faith and Hope and Charity he has new powers to accept and love God and look forward to eternal union with him; by Prudence and Justice and Temperance and Fortitude he has new powers to handle himself and deal with others as God would have him. Why then does he sin?

have him. Why then does he sin?

I have mentioned earlier the questioner who, over a space of 40 years, challenged me with "If I really believed what Catholics say they believe, I wouldn't sin. But Catholics do sin. Therefore, they don't believe. How do we answer him? More importantly, how do we answer ourselves? He was once worrying my wife with the question, "If you believe all you say, why do you sin?" Four times she tried with reasonable patience to discuss the weakness in the will. But the fifth time he asked: "But why do you sin?" She exploded: "Because we damned well choose to." He did not try a sixth time.

THE NEW LIFE IN US, the life of

THE NEW LIFE IN US, the life of Grace, does not give us a new nature. Obviously, it does not replace our body with a new body—if a man has a craving for alcohol before baptism, baptism will not remove it. He may emerge from his baptism craving for a drink as never before.

Less obviously, but obviously enough all the same, it does not replace our soul with a new soul. Grace has to work in the nature it finds (very much as Christ had to build his Church on the men he found). Paul says that we (himself included) carry our treasure of truth and life and union with Christ "in earthen vessels." The vessels, of course, are ourselves, very fragile, easily cracked. Grace is a kind of super-nature with its own powers of action, but it does not supersede nature, it interpensitates the nature we have, but does not of itself remove its defects.

To relum to the electric light lilustration: If the mechanism is defective, switching on the electric power does not mend it. Increasing the power does not mend it. The mending of the mechanism is a separate matter.

A Catholic who, by the new life into which he has been re-born, has the virtue of Hope yet may feel himself close to deapair; he has the virtue of Charity; yet he may act cruelly; he has the virtue of Justice, yet he may cheat his employees. It is not enough to flip the problem aside with a casual, "After all we're only human." "We're not "only human," we are Christ-ened, We dare not flip the problem aside; it

Visit to dying man brings reconciliation

BY FR. JOSEPH M. CHAMPLIN

Deathly III persons often hear and understand more than visitors realize.
Ken Herbert, a pseudonym for an elderly, dying man in our community, personally has underscored this truth i was taught in my seminary days.

I first met Mr.
Herbert only a few weeks ago, but in that short time I have become extremely close to this noble individual.
Our initial enunderstand more than visitors realize.

individual.

Our initial encounters came in the local hospital where doctors and nurses were trying with oxygen tubes to pour new life into his diseased fungs. A Catholic relative asked me to visit him, to pray over a man whose past religious background was uncertain and present practice, minimal. I did so cladly, but the visits were short, the and present practice, minimal, I did so gladly, but the visits were short, the prayers brief and, in his weakened condition, I judged he scarcely grasped who I was or what I did.

Mr. Herbert's state soon improved slightly, enough at least to send him home.

SEVERAL DAYS LATER a son-iniaw left a message at the rectory that the old man was calling for me. I stopped in the evening at his house, not expecting to do much more than show by my presence and prayers some interest and concern.
Ken's verbal communications now were but painful, gasping whispers uttered at lengthy intervals.
To my surprise, he recognized my voice and touch and to my shock, said he had, since teen-age days, always SEVERAL DAYS LATER a son-inwolce and touch and to my shock, sale he had, since teen-age days, always wanted to be a Catholic. A few simple questions indicated this was not the confused wish of a dying person, but the life-long desire of an individual

I conditionally baptized him, anointed forehead and hands with oil of the sick, bestowed the apostolic blessing and spoke a few final prayers in his ear.

Afterwards he slowly responded:

the hospital and the specialized care it

AFTER CONFESSIONS last Saturday night I made my customary evening rounds at the hospital. As I walked into Ken's room he spoke a word of recognition despite his rapidly falling health and vision.

We prayed together using the new "Rite of Anointing and Pastoral Care of the Sick." AFTER CONFESSIONS last LOOK MORE CLOSELY at the powers of action above our nature which we receive with the new life. Theologians call them "habits," and there is light for us in seeing them so. A natural habit—good or bad—is acquired by a constant repetition of certain actions. Drinking too much, for instance, athletic or musical skills, cursing. Supernatural habits, Faith and the rest, are not acquired in the same way by actions constantly repeated. They are given in one act by God. But they are habits as truly as the others—real modifications or development of our nature giving us powers to act in special ways.

of the Sick."

"Father . . . would you say . . . that prayer . . about green pastures?
"Of course, Ken . . . The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. In green pastures he gives me repose

"That's . . such . . . a . . . beautiful . . . prayer . . "
"Ken, I am going to whisper a few brief phrases from the Bible into your ear. All right?"

HE NODDED APPROVAL and Closed his eyes.

"What can come between us and the love of Christ?". What can come between us and the Love of Christ?"

"Nothing... nothing, Father."

This marvelous, unsolicited response stunned me and almost bears to me and almost tears to me average.

brought tears to my eyes.

"We shall see God as He really is . . . We shall see God as He really is . . . We shall see God as He really is . . . "

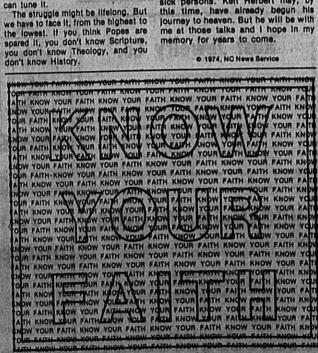

"Father...how wonderful....li will be ...when I kneelbefore Him ... In heaven." Before leaving, I gently stroked his him lift my fingers to his lips and kiss

I write these words on Monday a 39,000 feet en route to Seattle and a conference for priests on the care of sick persons. Ken Herbert may, by this time, have already begun his journey to heaven. But he will be with me at those talks and I hope in my memory for years to come.

CADET 'A' KICKBALL CHAMPIONS—Above are the Cadet "A" League kickball champions from Holy Name parish, Beech Grove. Also pictured are the coaches: Bill Stewart, Jeanne and Maureen Huser.

CADET 'B' KICKBALL CHAMPIONS—Above are the Cadet "B" League kickball champions from St. Barnabas parish, indianapolis. The coaches are Dennis Bryant and Mary Weber.

CYO NOTES

Criterion Quiz coaches are reminded rosters are due not later than November 29. The Nov. 8, 15, and 22 Issues of the Criterion will be used

The postponed dates for the St. Rita Bowling Tournament are this Saturday and Sunday, November 23 and 24, Brother Howard Studivant at St. Rita can answer any questions regarding the tournament.

The CYO Boxing Club will travel Saturday to take on Chief Don Lark's West Terre Haute Boxing Club. The matches will begin at 8 p.m. in the old school house.

Migrant worker seminar slated in New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Ind. Who is the migrant worker? What special problems does he have? How can local communities help him?

Answers to these questions will be discussed to these during a day-long seminar sponsored by the Henry County Migrant Task Force on Saturday, Nov. 23, at Chrysler High School.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m., with the opening general session scheduled for 9 a.m. Speakers will include representatives of Texas Migrant Council In Indiana, Associated Migrant

Net clinic set Monday

CYO basketball coaches will meet Monday at Chatard High School at 7:30 p.m. to prepare for the 1974-75 season. League action begins November 30 and December 1.

Personner I. Following the meeting, high school varsity, basketball coaches will conduct a clinic in the CYO Executive Director Bill Kuntz said the meeting is extremely important for all CYO coaches. Not only will schedules be distributed, schedules be distributed, but important rule changes will be reviewed.

Kuntz urged all coaches to attend the meeting and clinic afterwards. High school coaches who will conduct the clinic are: Dave Alexander, Chatard; Jim Jenks, Ritter; Mike Henderson, Latin School; Steve Norris. Scecina; John Morris, Scecina; John Wertz, Roncalli; Jim Lee, Brebeuf; and Gene Ancelot, Cathedral.

Clinic on tap in Volleyball

The first CYO Volleyball Coaches' Clinic in history is Coaches' Clinic in history is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 30, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Southside Armory. All coaches and players are welcome.

Representatives and players from Ball State, indiana, Purdue and Butter Universities will conduct the Universities will conduct the clinic with actual player demonstration. 0-4.

DIVISION II.—Little Flower (Blue)
4-0, St. Plus X 3-1; St. Simon (Blue)
3-1; St. Lawrence 2-2; St. Matthew
2-2; Mt. Carmel 2-2; St. Michael (White) 0-4; St. Philip Narl 0-4.
DIVISION III.—Holy Spirit 4-0; Our Lady of Lourdea 4-0; St. Mark 3-1;
Little Flower (Gold) 1-3; St. Andrew
1-3; St. Jude 1-3; St. Simon (White)
1-3; St. Jude 1-3; St. Simon (White)
1-3; St. South Central 1-3.

The clinic will be divided The clinic will be divided into two sessions. The morning session will be a general assembly, emphasizing skills, offenses and defenses. In the afternoon players will be offered personalized instructions while coaches review clies officiating. review rules, officiating, score keeping and timing. John Kesterson of St.

John Kesterson of St. Jude parish will host the clinic. He emphasizes that the clinic is open to all volleyball coaches and County social service agencies. Bob Thomas, a member of St. Anne's parish, is one of the organizers of the players. He also urges all coaches to bring a whistle for demonstrations.

Crowded agenda faces Bishops

(Continued from Page 1) began meeting annually in 1919.

THEY ALSO attended a national Interfalth worship service at St.
Matthew's Cathedral, to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Second Vatican' Council's Decree on Ecumenism. Representatives of several faiths and interfaith groups led several ratins and internating upon set the service, and Cardinal Jan Willebrands, president of the Vatican's Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, addressed the group. The American bishops' ties with the Universal Church were in evidence as Cardinal John Krol of Philadelphia, outgoing NCCB-USCG president, reported on the recent World Synod of Bishops in Rome, and as Archbishop Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate in the United States, addressed the body of blahops. The Vatican representative praised the American Church for its concern for social justice and for the degree of lay involvement in the

The bishops heard progress reports over the first two days on priestly formation, the permanent disconste, vocations, priestly life and ministry, pro-life activities, and liaison work with men and women Religious.

They agreed to a 1975 budget of $3,259,500 for the USCC and the NCCB national staff, and they heard a report on a reorganization of the USCC designed to stay within that budget limitation, despite inflation, without cutting back on services.

Death penalty statement

(Continued from Page 1) between capital punishment and

"We have on many occasions decried the tragedy of legally sanc-tioned abortion," the statement said. "We deplore current attempts to win legal sanction for euthanasia. To be sure, there is no parallel between the cases of unborn children, the elderly and infirm and the convicted criminal "But we do perceive some tendency to extend legal sanction to a growing number and variety of violations of the fundamental right to life, as we perceive in other areas of society other signs of indifference toward the right

AMONG THE leading opponents of the statement were Cardinal John Carberry of St. Louis, Archbishop Thomas Connolly of Seattle, Bishop Christopher Weldon of Springifle, Mass., and Bishop Floyd Begin of Oakland.

Cardinal Krol charged that many vocal opponents of capital punishment were also vocal supporters of abortion and Bishop Begin said that if the matter were put to a vote, the people would want capital punishment. Auxillary Bishop Anthony Bosco of Pittsburgh replied that the bishops are playing a "prophetic" role and that "prophets never get a referendum."

Brookville

Martinsviile

Phelps Drug Store

No. Side of Square

"Your Prescription Store"

DI 2-3321

Brazil

Say It With FLOWERS

Brazil Greenhouses

BRAZIL, IND.

PATRONIZE

OUR ADVERTISERS

Plainfield

A Good Bank to Grow With

The FIRST

NATIONAL

BANK and Trust Compan

of Plainfield

Pepsi

Lawrenceburg

Let Us Be Of Sernice To You Home Furniture & Appliance Co. Inc.

Hgwy. 50 West

Brownsburg

BROWNSBURG HARDWARE INC.

Brownsburg Shopping Center 852-4587

Miriam Has A Dress For You For Every Occasio

Miriam's Town Shop & E. Main Brownsburg

Batesville

Currin Bottling Co.

Whiteland

HOME FAIR

Quality Building Supplies Rall Road St.

535-7515

New Castle

Bank Number Three Organized in 1873 THE CITIZENS STATE BANK

NEW CASTLE, IND.

Dr. Joseph B. Kernel OPTOMETRIST

JA 9-0505 114 S. 15th St.

Connersville

DR. RICHARD WIENER OPTOMETRISTS

Office Hours: Mon. thru Fri. 9-12 and 1-5 Sat. 9-12 325 Eastern Ave. 825-5

Gray Sales Company

Chrysler-Plymouth-Valiant Sales and Service 600 Western Ave. 825-4131

Indianapolis Parish Shopping

ASSUMPTION

PKG. LIQUOR STORE 2017 W. Morris

CHRIST THE KING

"Buy The Best for Less"
Rich Ards Market Basket

FARMER'S
biry and Gift Shop
free and Buleva Watches
Peer, Gifts, Keys Made

HOLY ANGELS

BRAUN & SCHOTT Alikel # Fine Meats # Quality Fruits and Vegetables

CLARK'S SPARTAN DRUGS Photographic Equipment—Supplie Clark Prescription Pharmacy Plenty of Parking Space 2722 Northwestern Ave. 925-9225

HOLY SPIRIT

O'Hara

Miracle Water Our Speciality Water Softeners

1201 N. Tibbs 637-4345

GREENWO

MEDI-PLY, INC.

Pharmacy Specialists implete Line of Allercrem netics, Oslomy Appliance Supplies, Medical Equip

ales and Rentals of Wheel ales, Crutches, Walkers & hyalescent Aids, mith Valley Rd. & 5. Meridian penwood, End. 881-823

LADY OF LOURDES PEACHERS DRUGS

PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS 5648 E. Washington St. 357-1195

LADY OF MT. CARMEL

USDA Government Graded Choice and Prime Meats is Our Specialty O'Malia Food Markets

LITTLE FLOWER

BICYCLES EAST SIDE BIKE STORE

Bob Montgomery, Prop. SCHWINN BICYCLES Open 8 to 5 — Closed Wed. & Sun. 12:12 F. Michigan St. 3:56-0212)

NATIVITY McKEAND DRUG STORE

SACRED HEART

MILLER'S REGAL MARKET "Serving the Southside Since 1900" Terrace at Madison Ave.

TEETER'S

South Side Pharmacy

"FAMILY HEALTH SUPPLY CENTER" 1601 S. East St. 632-3583

ST. ANDREW

WHALEY MARATHON SERVICE

ST. ANN

WALTER'S PHARMACY
Cor. Holt Ed. at Parawerth
244-7000

- QUALITY DAILES .
- EXPERT PRESCRIPTIONISTS .

QUALITY BAKERY

Home Made Bread Decorated
Thday and Wedding Cakes
neglish Ave. 354-2374
INDIANAPOLIS

ST. BERNADETTE

STANDINGS

GIRLS' BASKETBALL As of Nov. 17

DIVISION I—All Saints 4-0; Christ the King 3-0; St. Joan of Arc 2-1; St. Michael 1-2; St. Thomas 1-2; St. Christopher 1-3; St. Monica

Opportunities Service, the Hispano-American Center of

Indianapolis, and Henry

ST. CHRISTOPHER

ROSNER PHARMACY. 10450 M. Cellege 130 S. Range Line Rd. PHONE 244-0241
FREE PRESCRIPTION DELIVERY

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE

The Robert A. O'Neal Agency

243-3557

S321 WEST 14TH STREET SPEEDWAY, INDIANA 44224 PRESCRIPTIONS, SICK ROCM NEEDS COMMETICS, TOYS, GREETING CARDS 235 Sevitessters Ave.

ST. JUDE

ORME'S
Carpets and Interiors
Lincitus Masswass-Tills
CESTOM FLOOR SETION
S 1. Meridies St. ST 6-140

HEIDENREICH We Phone Flowers Anyohere Member St. Jude 'THE TELEPHONE PLORIST"

McKeand's Carson Square Pharmacy 23 Years of Know How & Service Fine Cosmetics, Liquors & Gifts 137 E. Thompson Rd. 783-410

ST. LAWRENCE

AID ELECTRONICS
Sales and Service
We Service All Makes
Hrs. Daily 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Sat. 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.
4721 N. Franklin Rd. 54

MATTHEW

Jolly Foods Super Marke Sase North Emerson Open & a.m. to 10 p.m. Featuring Choice Beef, Fresh Fish From 11 Coast and Imported Foods

Patronize Our Advertisers

ST. MARK

We Love Cards

SSOCIATED SERVICE Deep Rock Products

ST. PHILIP NERI

VERA'S REGAL MARKET 2106 E. 10th St. NO PACKAGE MEAT — ALL PRESH CUT Shop by Phone — Delivery Service & 423-6171

Wolfe Shell Service Station 1945 E. MICHIGAN Exp. Lub. — Tire-Batter Serv. — Wesh — Simoni # SERVICE CALLS # ME 7-0055

IORDAN

Funeral Home

H

Locker Meats a Speci ocustom cur MEATS o Coon & ALL STACE PLENTY OF PARKING SPACE Buck's Quality Food

VICTOR PHARMACY

Free Prescription Delivery

New Albany

DAY LUMBER CO.

Marvin F. Dugan

15th & Shelby St. 944-6457

Shelbyville

Hoosier Plumbing & Heating Co.

Water Sustems 1127 Miller Ave. 392-3269 Tippecanoe Press, Inc. Printers - Stationers

Mooresville

CITIZENS BANK Offers

FULL SERVICE BANKING Member FDIC

HARVEY-COOKE FUNERAL HOME

24 Hour Ambulance Service Aldrich Harvey—Paul Cooke St. Rd. & N. & Allison Rd. soresville 831-9200

Columbus

Hame Entertainment Center 272-7833 Vetter's 2523 Contral

2 BIG LOCATIONS Acres of Parking Columbus Center & State & Mapleton

wink

825-5161

Richmond 30 Years of Service! Harrington-Hoch

Cutter Agencies Inc.

Inc. Insurance - Real Estate Insurance-General and Life 962-9502 Phone: 447-8 35 N. Eighth St. Ph. 966-0553 1126 Main St.

Greenwood

Personal Service Bank

Member F.D.I.C.

KELLY CHEVROLET

881-9371

PATRONIZE OUR

ADVERTISERS

Greensburg

Oliger-Pearson FUNERAL HOME Mrs. Howard J. Pearso 232 N. Franklin Ph. 662-8573

Welcome To Greensburg's argest and Most Complete Women's and Children's Apparer Store-Now Open The Golden Rule, Inc.

J.H. Porter & Sons Funeral Home Medicare approved ambulance service Tom Porter - Director Phone 442-1921

> Patronize Our Advertisers

Terre Haute

For Complete' Building Material Needs See . . Powell-Stephenson Lumber 2723 So. 7th St.

> Patronize Our

Advertisers

Smith's Discount Dept. Store

Low Discount Prices on Clothing for Entire Family 601 Wabash Ave. 232-1424 Quantity Rights Reserved

GREAT SCOT SUPERMARKET

Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week 11th and Locust

Back to the drawing board

BY JAMES W. ARNOLD

Sooner or later somebody is going to make a good movie out of all the con-fusion and hostility that is rattling around out there in besieged Middle America.
"Law and Disorder" is the latest example of failure: the that its low spots are so low its respectable high almost look spots stratospheric.

The temptation is to be pleasantly surprised, because the premise looks about as promising as a week-end in Baton Rouge

'DARK OF THE MOON'-The Marian College Theatre mountain-legend "Dark of the Moon" In three per-formances this week-end. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 22-24, in the college auditorium. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Shown above are Carlos Barbera of Indianapolis, and Susan Disbrow of Sandusky, O. The production is based upon the popular legend "The Ballad of Barbara Allen."

with the Klan. You have Carroll O'Connor and Ernest Borgnine set up as a couple of hard-working rednecks on New York's Lower East Side who get fed up with the rising crime rate. They join their hysterical neighbors in a housing development to form an auxiliary police unit, and one expects an overload Bunker types cruise around the tough neighborhoods and discover the hard realities of a policeman's life on the urban battlefield.

THAT'S ABOUT It, but not quite-and the "not quite" is what makes "Law and Disorder" worth discussing The movie has an odd look and feel to it, like one of those bawdy and polgnant working class comedies out of central Europe. Indeed, the writer-director is the Czech Ivan Passer, whose "Intimate Lighting" (1965) fits that description very well. Passer is a colleague of Miles Forman, and it is with Forman's first American comedy ("Taking Off") that this new flick is best compared. It is a burlesque

Open House set for Fr. McGinley

INDIANAPOLIS - An Open House will be held on Sunday, Dec. 1, honoring Father Joseph McGinley, priest of the Archdiocese who will be graduated today (Friday) from the U.S. Navy Chaplain's School in Rhode Island.

The reception will be held beginning at 12 noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. nome of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trier, 1225 Crawford Drive. Mrs. Trier is Father McGinley's sister. Friends and relatives are invited to the Open House. No formal invitations have been issued.

In his previous assign-ment, Father McGinley served as principal of Schulte High School, Terre assault, sometimes shrewd don't understand them-and funny, sometimes gross and offensive, on America's children, much less the English agent (Michael York), sent to Germany to uncover the Kaiser's secret weapon (the dirigible), begins to sympathize with the German cause. Elke Sommer is there to help persuade him, but the setting and subject are what make the movie. Satisfactory entertainment for all ages.

VALDEZ IS COMING
(1971) (ABC, Saturday, Nov.
23): Burt Lancaster is the traditional western hero, the honest and principled lawman, facing insuperable odds in an Arizona border town. The new ingredient is that he is Mexican-American, and has ac-cidentally killed an innocent black man. An above-average western, but violent.

KINGS OF THE SUN

(1963) (NBC, Monday, Nov.

25): The best thing about this adventure epic is its rare locale: ancient Mexico in the time of the Mayans. The details have some educational value, but the violence and the characters are much the same old stuff.

Yul Brynner and George Chakiris do most of the glowering, flighting and romancing. An exotic alternative to Monday night

GODSPELL (1973) (ABC, Wednesday, Nov. 27): David Greene's exuberant film version of the improbable rock musical that whim-sically tells the story of Jesus in contemporary New York. It's a kind of hybrid of Matthew's Gospel, Sesame Street, the Beatles movies and early St. Francis of Assisi, told with an upbeat

Assist, told with an upbear energy that makes Coke commercials look like testimonials to Calvin Coolidge, The rock and

Hippie context may turn off some, but others believe this is one of the best films on a teeming environment. The bourgeols.

As in "Taking Off," the suggests, is a reflection of central characters are middle-aged marrieds who Probably the best example is

WILLY WONKA AND THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY

CHOCOLATE FACTORY (1971) (NBC, Thursday, Nov. 28): The "ultimate trip" in this case is a trip through a magical candy factory, and this is the adequate film made from Roald Dahl's popular children's book.

Gene Wilder conducts the tour for our hero and a few others, who are more selfish and greedy, and there is a minimum of sugar. A Thanksgiving dessert, that should turn on young

Plan Boutique

and Bake Sale

INDIANAPOLIS -

Altar Society of Holy Trinity Church, 901 N. Holmes Ave.,

will sponsor a Bake and Boutique Sale on Saturday, Nov. 23, from 5:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. The sale will also be held on Sunday, Nov. 24, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

homemade breads including Slovenian Potica. A variety of gift items will be offered at the Boutique. A hand-crocheted afghan heads the list of awards to be given away. Mrs. Robert Lackner Is

3D ORDER TO MEET

invited to attend.

INDIANAPOLIS - Lay

JAMES H. DREW

Corporation Indianapolis, Ind.

Imaginations.

The week's TV network films

ZEPPELIN (1971) (NBC, Highly recommended for all,

Saturday, Nov. 23): An an absolute must for anyone interesting World War I under 18. adventure tale in which an WILLY WONKA AND THE his young son for having his bike stolen and his wife for (again) getting fired, looks grimly out of his high-rise window to the streets below, and describes the city as a 'damn jungle.'

a scene where Borgnine, having just loudly humillated

Once again, outraged parents decide to become investigators, and are comically inept, getting bogged down in uniforms, incidentals and beer. (They run down 14 flights of high-rise stairs after a mugger, staggering exhaustion, manage to corral only an innocent black

THE VIGILANTES are also treated to an expert lecture that has reverse results. "In "Taking Off," It was a talk on the evils of marijuana that resulted in all the parents getting high on the sample pot. In "Disorder," the speaker is a lisping psychologist who explains the perversity of rapists: they are turned-on by resistance, and turned-off by normal affection. In the next scene, Borgnine's spouse tries this approach on her sleepy disinterested husband, and Ernie becomes a raging boudoir Lothario.

The basic trick in "Disorder" is to cast O'Connor against his Bunker

RAYMOND F. FOX MICHAEL J. FOX D. BRUCE FOX

BOX & FOX Onswrance Agency

Area 317, 925-1456 3656 Washington Blvd. Indianapolis, Ind. 46205

Free Inspections Conditional Lifetime Guarantee

E-Z Terms 1729 SHELBY ST. stereotype. His moderate and humane cabdriver is the center of sanity against which all the other clowns, male and female, play. O'Connor, in fact, is often gently moving as a nice guy who is modestly bewildered by social changes, including rebellion of his teen-age daughter, but who tries to cope positively. He is also still trying to live his own life. He has plans to buy a lunch counter and make it work, but buddy Borgnine is too obsessed with being a really there, yet is almost fake John Wayne to join him. Carroll's wife (Ann Wedgeworth) is also ob-viously too pleased with the glamor of her job as a cocktail waitress to join the project, and the film's most the tacky restaurant and she tearfully turns him down. Clearly, a lot of human truth is boiling under the surface here. But it is held down, partly by the ridicule which film artists seem to hold for most ordinary people, especially white ethnics—how can one really care about the stupid touching and valid scene comes when he shows her crypto-fascist idiots depicted in the film?—and partly by the often coarse humor, best typified by what poor Karen Black has to do as a sex-obsessed assistant in Borgnine's beauty parlor. Ernie also overplays terribly: he is so loud and profane that a concluding race riot is virtually a relief to the deadened senses.

A FINAL positive word: the European Passer has managed to suggest a feeling of social class in American city life that is films. (Remember "Joe"?). It comes out best in the final scene, when O'Connor In the middle of a traffic jam on an East River bridge.

The working man does make things run, and he is tired of being shoved around. Too bad that, for the most part, this movie shoves around some more. him [Rating-A-4: unob-jectionable for adults with reservations]

2 EXCITING WINTER VACATIONS

MEXICO

Mexico City-Taxco Acapulco Deluxe Hotels sightseeing; Many Meals

Jan. 22 to Jan. 29, 1975 *464 M. Oc.

HAWAII

Julu-Kona-Hilo De uxè Hotels, American Breakfast Daily, Sight-seeing, Luau and Dinner.

$569 ML Oct.

Mar. 11 to Mar. 18, 1975 Write, call or drop in: 923-3311

Prepare Now For Advent!

Contains all the accessories needed for making an Advent Wreath easily and quickly. Complete instructions included. Advent Wreath Kit with Brass Wreath Fixture

EVERY FAMILY SHOULD HAVE AN ADVENT WREATH

Advent Wreath

Candle Kit . . .

Also Available with Green Wire Wreath

as shown $8.25

Advent Wreath Candle Kit $3.50 Refill Candles, 69c pair

Pick your Christmas Cards NOW — Many new styles from which to choose. We imprint them at $1.00 per box of 25.

NEW-Advent Wreath with Artificial Greens $3.50—Complete with Candles $7.95

ADVENT CALENDARS from .65c

Open Daily 9:30 to 5:30 Mon, thru Sat.

Mail Orders Promptly Filled—(Add 4 per cent Ind. State Sales Tax) "We Specialize In Service"

KRIEG BROS. Established 1892

119 S. Meridian St., Indpis., 46225 (Area Code 317) 638-3416 or 638-3417

RINCAID'S 'MEATING' PLACE

FEATURING

A Full Line Of Poultry Products

For Your Hollday Meal Planning

Turkeys—Turkey Breasts—Capons Duck—Rock Cornish Hens & Roasting Chickens Chicago Skirt Steaks

Something New in Town!

Cathedral Fathers' Club TURKEY SHOOT Friday, Nov. 22
Cathedral High School—All Adults Welcome

St. Andrew MINI BAZAAR Sunday, Nov. 24—10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Parish Hall—4050 E. 38th St.

Daughters of Isabella ANNUAL CARD PARTY Saturday, Nov. 23—1:30 p.m. K of C Hall—1305 N. Delaware $1.25 donation St. Joan of Arc Women's Club PARISH DANCE Saturday, Nov. 23—9 p.m.-1 a.m. Social Hall

Feeney Mortuaries

Feeney-Kirby 1901 North Meridian

Dorsey-Feeney 3925 East New York

Feeney-Hornak 71st at Keysto 923-4504

19c 10 Gal, Tanks LET INFLATION

Fish - Pets - Supplies FREE FISH (with any purchase)

WORK FOR YOU $40000 $20000

OWN YOUR OWN CONDOMINIUM

"Here's How It Works"

doesn't take much imagination to see you are ting a Brand New Condominium for Nothing nd of one year period we get you a using the $1500.00 as your down TRADE YOUR REST RECEIPTS FOR MOME OWNERS Cardes soy hought had said lied the bester. Like everything also in the rest saids find, THEY SHOULD SO UP IN VALUE AND

> FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT: BOB at 888-4144

HOLY CHILDHOOD ASSOCIATION

