The Golf Fore Faith (GFF) outing will benefit the A Promise to Keep (APTK) program. The archdiocese developed this pro-active, preventive sexual health model in partnership with St. Vincent Health 25 years ago. The high school teens who serve as mentors are positive role models who peers and younger adolescents want to emulate. To date, more than 11,500 high school teens have served as mentors in the APTK program. The average age of these mentors and former mentors is now about 30 years old. They are living out their faith on college campuses, in the military and workplace. They are coming to the Church to receive the sacrament of matrimony. Many are now parents with children entering our schools. These mentors and former mentors have taught the APTK curriculum to more than 120,000 adolescents throughout the archdiocese. The GFF outing helps us sustain the APTK ministry and provides a public venue for our teens and young adults to model the Church’s teaching on chastity and sexuality.
