July 21-27, 2019: National NFP Awareness Week: Cooperating with God's Design for Married Love -

“Celebrate and reverence God’s Vision of Human Sexuality”

The dates of July 21- 27, 2019 for Natural Family Planning Awareness Week highlights the anniversary of the papal encyclical Humanae Vitae (July 25) which articulates Catholic beliefs about human sexuality, conjugal love and responsible parenthood. The dates also mark the feasts of Ss. Joachim and Anne (July 26), the parents of the Blessed Mother.

The Archdiocese of Indianapolis’ Office of Marriage and Family Life joins with the U.S. bishops in highlighting the benefits of NFP. By respecting the love-giving and life-giving nature of marriage, NFP can enrich the bond between husband and wife. The Archdiocese of Indianapolis promotes NFP all year-long through class and teacher listings, and helps promote NFP-related activities planned throughout the Archdiocese. In addition, we collaborate with St. Vincent Hospital to promote NFP to nurses, doctors, and medical professionals. If you would like to learn more about what is offered across the archdiocese, please visit www.archindy.org/marriageandfamily/ministries-nfp.html or visit the NFP section of the USCCB website at: <http://www.usccb.org/nfp/what-is-nfp/index.cfm>. EXCERPTS FROM

Married Love and the Gift of Life

This bulletin insert is excerpted from Married Love and the Gift of Life, a statement of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) that was approved at its November 2006 General Meeting.

Men and women considering marriage yearn for certain things. They want to be accepted unconditionally by each other. They want their marriage to be filled with love and happiness. They want a family. In short, they want their marriage to be a source of joy and fulfillment their whole life long.

God's plan for marriage, from the time he first created human beings as male and female, has always included all this and more.

WHAT DOES THE CHURCH TEACH ABOUT MARRIED LOVE?

Marriage is more than a civil contract; it is a lifelong covenant of love between a man and a woman. It is an intimate partnership in which husbands and wives learn to give and receive love unselfishly, and then teach their children to do so as well. Christian marriage in particular is a "great mystery," a sign of the love between Christ and his Church (Eph 5:32).

Married love is powerfully embodied in the spouses' sexual relationship, when they most fully express what it means to become "one body" (Gn 2:24) or "one flesh" (Mk 10:8, Mt 19:6). The Church teaches that the sexual union of husband and wife is meant to express the full meaning of love, its power to bind a couple together and its openness to new life.

WHAT DOES THIS HAVE TO DO WITH CONTRACEPTION?

A husband and wife express their committed love not only with words, but with the language of their bodies.

Married love differs from any other love in the world. By its nature, the love of husband and wife is so complete, so ordered to a lifetime of communion with God and each other, that it is open to creating a new human being they will love and care for together. Part of God's gift to husband and wife is this ability in and through their love to cooperate with God's creative power. Therefore, the mutual gift of fertility is an integral part of the bonding power of marital intercourse. That power to create a new life with God is at the heart of what spouses share with each other.

Suppressing fertility by using contraception denies part of the inherent meaning of married sexuality and does harm to the couple's unity. The total giving of oneself, body and soul, to one's beloved is no time to say: "I give you everything I am—except. . . ." The Church's teaching is not only about observing a rule, but about preserving that total, mutual gift of two persons in its integrity.

ARE COUPLES EXPECTED TO LEAVE THEIR FAMILY SIZE ENTIRELY TO CHANCE?

Certainly not. The Church teaches that a couple may generously decide to have a large family, or may for serious reasons choose not to have more children for the time being or even for an indefinite period (Humanae Vitae, no. 10).

WHAT SHOULD A COUPLE DO IF THEY HAVE A GOOD REASON TO AVOID HAVING A CHILD?

A married couple can engage in marital intimacy during the naturally infertile times in a woman's cycle, or after child-bearing years, without violating the meaning of marital intercourse in any way.

This is the principle behind natural family planning (NFP). Natural methods of family planning involve fertility education that enables couples to cooperate with the body as God designed it.

WHAT IS NATURAL FAMILY PLANNING?

Natural family planning is a general name for the methods of family planning that are based on a woman's menstrual cycle. A man is fertile throughout his life, while a woman is fertile for only a few days each cycle during the child-bearing years. Some believe that NFP involves using a calendar to predict the fertile time. That is not what NFP is today. A woman experiences clear, observable signs indicating when she is fertile and when she is infertile. Learning to observe and understand these signs is at the heart of education in natural family planning.

When a couple decides to postpone pregnancy, NFP can be very effective. NFP can also be very helpful for couples who desire to have a child because it identifies the time of ovulation. It is used by many fertility specialists for this purpose. Thus a couple can have marital relations at a time when they know that conception is most likely to take place.

IS THERE REALLY A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN USING CONTRACEPTION AND PRACTICING NATURAL FAMILY PLANNING?

On the surface, there may seem to be little difference. But the end result is not the only thing that matters, and the way we get to that result may make an enormous moral difference. Some ways respect God's gifts to us while others do not. Couples who have practiced natural family planning after using contraception have experienced a profound difference in the meaning of their sexual intimacy.

When couples use contraception, either physical or chemical, they suppress their fertility, asserting that they alone have ultimate control over this power to create a new human life. With NFP, spouses respect God's design for life and love. They may choose to refrain from sexual union during the woman's fertile time, doing nothing to destroy the love-giving or life-giving meaning that is present. This is the difference between choosing to falsify the full marital language of the body and choosing at certain times not to speak that language.

IS IT TRUE, AS SOME CLAIM, THAT SOME METHODS OF BIRTH CONTROL CAN CAUSE AN ABORTION?

Some methods of birth control are aimed at preventing the union of sperm and egg and therefore act only as contraceptives. These would include barriers such as condoms and diaphragms.

By contrast, hormonal methods such as the Pill may work in several ways. They can suppress ovulation or alter cervical mucus to prevent fertilization, and thus act contraceptively. But they may at times have other effects, such as changes to the lining of the uterus. If the contraceptive action fails and fertilization takes place, these hormonal methods may make it impossible for a newly conceived life to implant and survive. That would be a very early abortion. Medical opinions differ on whether or how often this may occur. Currently there is no way to know precisely how these drugs work at any given time in an individual woman.

Concern about the risk of causing an early abortion is stronger in the case of pills taken after intercourse to prevent pregnancy (“emergency contraception” or “morning-after pills”). In some cases these pills are taken when sperm and egg have already joined to create a new life, in which case the drug could not have any effect except to cause an early abortion.

WHAT HAS BEEN THE IMPACT OF CONTRACEPTION ON SOCIETY? ON MARRIED COUPLES?

Many would likely be surprised at how long all Christian churches agreed on this teaching against contraception. It was only in 1930 that some Protestant denominations began to reject this long-held position. Those opposed to this trend predicted an increase in premarital sex, adultery, acceptance of divorce, and abortion. Later, in 1968, Pope Paul VI warned that the use of contraception would allow one spouse to treat the other more like an object than a person, and that in time governments would be tempted to impose laws limiting family size. Pope John Paul II called attention to the close association between contraception and abortion, noting that “the negative values inherent in the ‘contraceptive mentality’ . . . are such that they in fact strengthen this temptation [to abortion] when an unwanted life is conceived” (Evangelium Vitae, no. 13).

These predictions have come true. Today we see a pandemic of sexually transmitted diseases, an enormous rise in cohabitation, one in three children born outside of marriage, and abortion used by many when contraception fails. A failure to respect married love’s power to help create new life has eroded respect for life and for the sanctity of marriage.

CONCLUSION

By using contraception, couples may think that they are avoiding problems or easing tensions, that they are exerting control over their lives. But the gift of being able to help create another person, a new human being with his or her own life, involves profound relationships. It affects our relationship with God, who created us complete with this powerful gift. It involves whether spouses will truly love and accept each other as they are, including their gift of fertility. Finally, it involves the way spouses will spontaneously accept their child as a gift from God and the fruit of their mutual love. Like all important relationships with other persons, it is not subject solely to our individual control. In the end, this gift is far richer and more rewarding than that.

The Church’s teaching on marital sexuality is an invitation for men and women—an invitation to let God be God, to receive the gift of God’s love and care, and to let this gift inform and transform us, so we may share that love with each other and with the world.

Amor Matrimonial y el Don de la Vida

Este anuncio del boletín contiene una selección de lo expuesto sobre El Amor Matrimonial y el Don de la Vida, que fue aprobado por la Conferencia de Obispos Católicos de los Estados Unidos en la Reunión General de noviembre de 2006.

¿QUÉ ENSEÑA LA IGLESIA ACERCA DEL AMOR MATRIMONIAL?

El matrimonio es más que un contrato civil; es una alianza de toda la vida entre un hombre y una mujer. Es una unión íntima en la que los esposos y las esposas aprenden a dar y recibir amor generosamente, y luego enseñan a sus hijos e hijas a hacer lo mismo. El matrimonio cristiano, en particular, es un “gran misterio”, un símbolo del amor entre Cristo y su Iglesia (Ef 5:32). La Iglesia enseña que la unión sexual del esposo y la esposa tiene el propósito de expresar el significado pleno del amor, su poder de unir a la pareja y su apertura a una vida nueva.

¿QUÉ TIENE QUE VER ESTO CON LA ANTICONCEPCIÓN?

El esposo y la esposa expresan el compromiso de su amor no solo mediante palabras, sino también mediante el lenguaje de sus cuerpos.

Por naturaleza, el amor del esposo y la esposa es tan completo, tan ordenado a una vida entera de comunión con Dios y del uno con el otro, que está abierto a la creación de un nuevo ser humano, al que amarán y cuidarán juntos. Parte del don de Dios al esposo y a la esposa es esta capacidad de cooperar con el poder creador de Dios en este amor y mediante este amor. Por lo tanto, el don mutuo de la fecundidad es parte integral del poder unitivo del acto sexual marital. Este poder de crear una vida nueva con Dios es la esencia de lo que los cónyuges comparten el uno con el otro.

Suprimir la fertilidad al utilizar anticonceptivos niega parte del significado inherente de la sexualidad matrimonial y perjudica la unión de la pareja. La enseñanza de la Iglesia no solo supone observar una regla, sino preservar también ese don mutuo y total de dos personas en su integridad.

¿SE ESPERA QUE LAS PAREJAS DEJEN EL TAMAÑO DE SU FAMILIA SUJETO TOTALMENTE AL AZAR?

Ciertamente no. La Iglesia enseña que una pareja puede decidir, generosamente, tener una familia numerosa o, por motivos serios, puede optar por no tener más hijos e hijas por el momento o incluso indefinidamente (Humanae Vitae, no. 10).

¿QUÉ DEBE HACER UNA PAREJA SI TIENE UNA RAZÓN VÁLIDA PARA EVITAR TENER HIJOS E HIJAS?

Una pareja casada puede tener intimidad marital durante el período naturalmente estéril del ciclo de la mujer o después de los años de procreación, sin violar el significado del acto sexual marital en forma alguna.

Este es el principio que gobierna la planificación familiar natural (PFN). Los métodos naturales de planificación familiar constan de una educación sobre la fecundidad, que permite que las parejas cooperen con el cuerpo tal como Dios lo creó.

¿QUÉ ES LA PLANIFICACIÓN FAMILIAR NATURAL?

La planificación familiar natural es un término general para los métodos de planificación familiar que se basan en el ciclo menstrual de la mujer. El hombre es fecundo durante toda su vida, mientras que la mujer lo es solamente durante unos pocos días en cada ciclo menstrual durante sus años de procreación. La mujer tiene señales claras y observables que indican cuándo está fértil y cuándo está estéril. Aprender a observar y comprender esas señales es la esencia de la educación para la planificación familiar natural.

Cuando una pareja decide postergar un embarazo, la PFN puede ser muy eficaz. La PFN también es muy útil para las parejas que desean tener un hijo o hija, porque identifica el momento de la ovulación. De este modo, una pareja puede tener relaciones maritales en el momento en que es más probable que la concepción se lleve a cabo.

¿EXISTE REALMENTE ALGUNA DIFERENCIA ENTRE UTILIZAR ANTICONCEPTIVOS Y PRACTICAR LA PLANIFICACIÓN FAMILIAR NATURAL?

A simple vista, puede parecer que la diferencia es pequeña. Pero el resultado final no es lo único que importa, y la manera en que logramos ese resultado puede implicar una enorme diferencia moral. Algunos métodos respetan los dones que Dios nos ha dado y otros no. Las parejas que han practicado la planificación familiar natural después de utilizar anticonceptivos han experimentado una profunda diferencia en el significado de su intimidad sexual.

Cuando las parejas utilizan anticonceptivos, sean estos físicos o químicos, suprimen su fecundidad, afirmando que solamente ellos tienen el máximo control sobre este poder de crear una vida humana nueva. Con la PFN, los cónyuges respetan el designio de Dios de vida y amor. Pueden optar por abstenerse de la unión sexual durante el período fértil de la mujer, sin hacer nada que destruya el significado de brindar amor y vida, que está presente. Esa es la diferencia entre optar por falsificar el lenguaje marital pleno del cuerpo u optar, en ciertos momentos, por no hablar ese lenguaje.

¿ES CIERTO, COMO DICEN ALGUNOS, QUE ALGUNOS MÉTODOS DE CONTROL DE LA NATALIDAD PUEDEN CAUSAR UN ABORTO?

Algunos métodos de control de la natalidad tienen como fin impedir la unión del espermatozoide con el óvulo y, por lo tanto, actúan como anticonceptivos. Entre ellos se encuentran aquellos que actúan como barreras, como los condones y los diafragmas.

En cambio, los métodos hormonales como la píldora pueden funcionar de diversas maneras. Pueden suprimir la ovulación o alterar las secreciones cervicales para impedir la fecundación y actuar, por lo tanto, como anticonceptivos. Pero muchas veces tienen otros efectos, como por ejemplo los cambios en las paredes del útero. Si la acción anticonceptiva falla y la fecundación tiene lugar, estos métodos hormonales pueden impedir que esa vida recién concebida se implante y sobreviva. Eso constituiría un aborto muy temprano. Las opiniones médicas difieren sobre si esto ocurre o con qué frecuencia. En la actualidad, no hay manera de saber con exactitud cómo funcionan estas drogas en un momento determinado en una mujer en particular.

La preocupación sobre el riesgo de causar un aborto es mayor en el caso de las píldoras que se toman después del acto sexual para impedir el embarazo (“anticoncepción de emergencia” o “píldoras del día siguiente”). En algunos casos, estas píldoras se toman cuando el espermatozoides y el óvulo ya se han unido para crear una vida nueva, en cuyo caso la droga no podría tener efecto alguno, excepto el de causar un aborto temprano.

¿CUÁL HA SIDO EL IMPACTO DE LOS ANTICONCEPTIVOS EN LA SOCIEDAD? ¿EN LAS PAREJAS CASADAS?

Es probable que muchos se sorprendan al enterarse del largo tiempo en el que todas las iglesias cristianas coincidieron en esta enseñanza contra la anticoncepción. Fue en 1930 que algunos credos protestantes comenzaron a rechazar esta posición sostenida durante tanto tiempo. Los que se opusieron a esa tendencia predijeron un aumento en las relaciones sexuales prematrimoniales, el adulterio, la aceptación del divorcio y el aborto. Más tarde, en 1968, el Papa Pablo VI advirtió que la utilización de los anticonceptivos daría lugar a que un cónyuge tratara al otro como objeto más que como persona y que, con el tiempo, los gobiernos se verían tentados a imponer leyes que limitaran el tamaño de la familia. El Papa Juan Pablo II destacó la estrecha conexión entre los anticonceptivos y el aborto, señalando que “los contravalores inherentes a la ‘mentalidad anticonceptiva’ [...] son tales que hacen precisamente más fuerte esta tentación [del aborto] ante la eventual concepción de una vida no deseada” (Evangelium Vitae, no. 13).

Esas predicciones se han cumplido. Hoy en día, vemos una epidemia de enfermedades transmitidas sexualmente, un enorme incremento en la cohabitación, el nacimiento de uno de cada tres niños fuera del matrimonio y el aborto utilizado por muchos cuando los anticonceptivos fallan. No respetar ese poder del amor matrimonial para ayudar a crear nuevas vidas ha erosionado el respeto por la vida y por la santidad del matrimonio.

CONCLUSIÓN

Al usar anticonceptivos, las parejas podrían pensar que están evitando problemas o calmando tensiones, que están ejerciendo control sobre sus vidas. Pero el don de poder ayudar a crear otra persona, un ser humano nuevo con su propia vida, entrafía relaciones profundas. Afecta nuestra relación con Dios que nos creó completos con este don poderoso. Es una demostración del verdadero amor y de la aceptación mutua de los cónyuges, tal como son, incluyendo el don de la fecundidad. Finalmente, implica la manera en que los cónyuges aceptarán espontánea-mente a su hijo o hija como un don de Dios y fruto de su amor mutuo. Como todas las relaciones importantes con otras personas, no está sujeto únicamente a nuestro control individual. Al final, este don es mucho más rico y más gratificante.

La doctrina de la Iglesia sobre la sexualidad marital es una invitación a los hombres y a las mujeres — una invitación a permitir que Dios sea Dios, a recibir el don del amor y el cuidado de Dios, y a permitir que este don nos informe y nos transforme, para que podamos compartir ese amor el uno con el otro y con el mundo.

NATURAL FAMILY PLANNING

At the first stage of life, centers for natural methods of regulating fertility should be promoted as a valuable help to responsible parenthood, in which all individuals, and in the first place the child, are recognized and respected in their own right and where every decision is guided by the ideal of the sincere gift of self. (EV, #88)

From the scientific point of view, these methods are becoming more and more accurate and make it possible in practice to make choices in harmony with moral values. An honest appraisal of their effectiveness should dispel certain prejudices which are still widely held, and should convince married couples, as well as health-care and social workers, of the importance of proper training in this area. (EV, #97)

The Church is grateful to those who, with personal sacrifice and often unacknowledged dedication, devote themselves to the study and spread of these methods, as well to the promotion of education in the moral values which they presuppose. (EV, #97)

It is therefore morally unacceptable to encourage, let alone impose, the use of methods such as contraception, sterilization, and abortion in order to regulate births. (EV, #90)

In fact, as experience bears witness, not every conjugal act is followed by a new life. God has wisely disposed natural laws and rhythms of fecundity which, of themselves, cause a separation in the succession of births. (HV, #11)

If, then, there are serious motives to space out births, which derive from the physical or psychological conditions of husband and wife, or from external conditions, the Church teaches that it is then licit to take into account the natural rhythms immanent in the generative functions, for the use of marriage in the infertile periods only, and in this way to regulate birth without offending the moral principles which have been recalled earlier. (HV, #16)

The Church is coherent with herself when she considers recourse to the infertile periods to be licit, while at the same time condemning, as being always illicit, the use of means directly contrary to fecundation, even if such use is inspired by reasons which may appear honest and serious. In reality, there are essential differences between the two cases; in the former, the married couple make legitimate use of a natural disposition; in the latter, they impede the development of natural processes. (HV, #16)

The choice of the natural rhythms involves accepting the cycle of the person that is the woman and thereby accepting dialogue, reciprocal respect, shared responsibility and self-control. To accept the cycle and to enter into dialogue means to recognize both spiritual and corporal character of conjugal communion, and to live personal love with its requirement of fidelity. In this context the couple comes to experience how conjugal communion is enriched with those values of tenderness and affection which constitute the inner soul of human sexuality in its physical dimension also. In this way, sexuality is respected and promoted in its truly and fully human dimension, and is never "used" as an "object" that by breaking the personal unity of soul and body, strikes at God's creation itself at the level of the deepest interaction of nature and person. (FC, #32)

In the light of the experience of many couples and of the data provided by the different human sciences, theological reflection is able to perceive and is called to study further the difference, both anthropological and moral, between contraception and recourse to the rhythm of the cycle: it is a difference which is much wider and deeper than is usually thought, one which involves in the final analysis two irreconcilable concepts of the human person and of human sexuality. (FC, #32)

Periodic continence, that is, the methods of birth regulation based on self-observation and the use of infertile periods, is in conformity with the objective criteria of morality. These methods respect the bodies of the spouses, encourage tenderness between them and favor the education of an authentic freedom. In contrast, "every action which, whether in anticipation of the conjugal act, or in its accomplishment, or in the development of its natural consequences, proposes, whether as an end or as a means, to render procreation impossible" is intrinsically evil:

Thus the innate language that expresses the total reciprocal self-giving of husband and wife is overlaid, through contraception, by an objectively contradictory language, namely, that of not giving oneself totally to the other. This leads not only to a positive refusal to be open to life but also to a falsification of the inner truth of conjugal love, which is called upon to give itself in personal totality....The difference, both anthropological and moral, between contraception and recourse to the rhythm of the cycle...involves in the final analysis two irreconcilable concepts of the human person and of human sexuality. (CCC, #2370)

Taking advantage of the temporary natural sterility in the Ogino-Knaus method does not violate the natural order...since conjugal relations respond to the will of the Creator. (Pius XII, Allocution to the Members of the Seventh Congress on Hematology, September 12, 1958)

Free to choose the number of children they desire, the couple must be equally free to use natural methods for the responsible regulation of their fertility, for serious reasons and in conformity with the teaching of the church. These various methods deserve to be known and spread widely. Couples must be offered the means to freely exercise their responsible motherhood and fatherhood. The artificial methods of birth control as well as sterilization do not respect the human person of a woman and man because they eliminate or impede fertility, which is an integral part of the person. (PCF, The Ethical and Pastoral Dimensions of Population Trends, March 25, 1994, #76)
